

OUR CIRCULATION IN RICHMOND AND MADISON COUNTY IS EQUAL TO THE COMBINED CIRCULATION OF ALL OTHER COUNTY PAPERS

URGED TO GROW
MORE FOODSTUFFS

FARMERS' INSTITUTE PASS RESOLUTION FAVORING LESS TOBACCO GROWING.

INCORSE METHODS OF STATE

To Stamp Out the Foot and Mouth Disease—Cooperation Among Farmers Also Urged.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort, Ky.,—Realizing the necessity for the increased demands for foodstuffs as a result of the European war the representatives of the farmers of this state, at the meeting of the State Farmers' Institute passed resolutions urging the farmers to raise foodstuffs instead of tobacco and cotton, and co-operation of the great railroad systems is asked in conveying limestone dust to the farms throughout the state to fertilize the worn-out land.

The efforts and methods adopted by the state, and federal authorities to stamp out the foot and mouth disease were endorsed.

Cooperation of the farmers in perfecting organizations for marketing their crops more advantageously are encouraged, and Gov. McCreary is commended for his good road policy. "Possessing the right kind of crops," said the resolutions, "is the duty of Western Kentucky are condemned, and a rigid enforcement of the law is requested. The work of Commissioner of Agriculture Newman in this state and Hugh Dawson in Washington for the benefit of the farmers is commended. The resolutions committee comprised Ben Watson, Senator Starling Marshall and Harry McCarty.

Kills Part of Law.

Personal liberty was infringed upon by the attempt to exercise the police power in Section 4 of the Hampton act of 1914, to make it unlawful "for any persons to keep, store or possess any liquor in any room, building or structure other than the private residence of such person, and which is not used as a place of public resort." The section which was aimed at "hooking clubs" in dry towns was declared unconstitutional in a decision by Commissioner Clat. "The power of the state to regulate and control the conduct of a private individual is confined to those cases where his conduct injuriously affects others," said his faults or weaknesses which he keeps to himself and which do not operate to the detriment of others, the state as such has no concern. The police power may be called into play when it is reasonably necessary to protect the public health, the public morals or the public safety. The mere fact that the legislature sees fit to enact a statute ostensibly for the purpose of promoting such ends is not conclusive of the question. When, therefore, the statute purporting to have been enacted to protect public health, or public morals or public safety, has on real or substantial relation to these objects, or is a palpable invasion of rights secured by the fundamental law, it is the duty of the court so to adjudge and thereby give effect to the constitution."

Glad To Get Back Home.

His desire to get out into the world, which resulted only in four days of mental anguish for his parents and finally a yearning for home, was brought about by his apprehension, was brought to a climax when Houston Long, father of Herbert Long, 17, swooped down on the young man in his temporary residence at Lexington and brought him to Frankfort and to his home near Peaks Mill. With his funds nearing the starvation stage, young Long wrote to a boy friend in this city expressing him of his whereabouts, the letter of his letter indicating that he would love again to sit by the fire at his parents' home, but apparently feared the wrath to come and hesitated to return. The information of his whereabouts was imparted to his father and without apprising his son of his knowledge Mr. Long hurried to Lexington and returned with the runaway.

Act of 1914 Is Void.

The act of 1914, conferring on county courts, excepting in counties having a continuous session of the circuit court, jurisdiction in all misdemeanor cases, is void, because it violates the provisions of Section 141 of the constitution. "The jurisdiction of county courts shall be uniform throughout the state."

Big String of Fish Caught.

Tom Thomasson and Walter Overton, who rank among Frankfort's most enthusiastic and successful fishermen, returned to the city after a day spent on the river at the mouth of Glenn's creek, with a string of 28 fish, averaging 3/4 of a pound each, some of them weighing 1 1/2 pounds. The catch would have been considered a splendid showing even at the height of the fishing season and is more remarkable from the fact that up to this time the only fish of any consequence have been taken from Benson creek.

For Sale.

House and lot located at No. 412 East Main street. Said house is one and one-half stories and contains seven rooms; lot is thirty-two front running back two hundred feet; hydrant and concrete pavements. A bargain for some one. Apply to Mrs. M. B. Hicks at Richmond Millinery Co. 5-11.

Large line of gloves and cloaks of all kinds and colors at Stouffer's. 12-11

Under Expert Supervision.

Kentucky will spend approximately $1,700,000 on her public highways this year under the state aid plan, and construct or permanently improve between 800 and 1,000 miles of main traveled highway, providing so much is possible of accomplishment within the time limit of working days. This means the amount stated will be spent and the miles estimated will be improved according to plans and specifications furnished by skilled engineers of the state road department, the contracts will be approved by Commissioner Roads R. C. Terrell and engineers from his office will inspect and supervise the work before the money is paid for it.

The amount is easily calculated. The state route system is valued at $600,000; the counties must raise and expend on construction an equal amount to get the state aid and Bell county has voted $250,000 in bonds; Greenup $200,000, and Lewis $150,000. According to the requests from various county authorities that have conferred with one another before filing their applications, or, as in most instances have been brought together by Commissioner Terrell, a route will be opened from Cincinnati through the Blue Grass and over the old Wilderness Trail, or Boone Way, through the mountains and Cumberland Gap into Virginia's magnificently improved highway system that leads to the South Atlantic coast. Another route out of Cincinnati leads eastward along the Ohio and up the Big Sandy into Pike. Yet another, turning from the route in the heart of the Blue Grass, carries the tourist along the Kentucky river highlands, via the Capital, to Louisville, where they strike the Lincoln homestead in Larue and extend on to Nashville. By branch routes is reached the Jefferson Davis Way through Todd county, the Pennyrite and to the furthest confines of Jackson's Purchase. Another route extends from the Tennessee border through the Louisville northward to Henderson and thence into Indiana.

Taking them in order, the first route leads out of Kenton county through Grant, Scott, Fayette, Jessamine and Garrard. From Fayette a route will be through Madison to the Boone Way, and Lincoln, Rockcastle, Laurel, Knox and Bell have asked for state aid along the inner-county highway corresponding to this route.

From Campbell county another route runs through Pendleton, Bracken, Mason, Lewis, Greenup, Boyd, Lawrence, Johnson, Floyd and Pike to Pound Gap. From Lexington to Louisville the route is well known, while the Lincoln-Jackson way runs to West Point, thence to Elizabethtown, with a side trip to the Lincoln Farm, Munfordville, Glasgow, Scottsville and to the Tennessee line in Allen. From this route a branch leads to Bowling Green, where the Jefferson Davis Way is struck, passing through Russellville, Elkhorn, the Jefferson Davis homestead, Cadiz, Benton and Paducah.

Wilson Boosts Institution Cause.

Praise for the "simple straightforward" people of the southern mountains and criticism of "the airs that high society gives itself" were voiced by President Wilson at a meeting held in Washington in the interest of Berea college, Kentucky, founded to educate the mountain people. The president declared that the college was "going straight to the heart of one of the most interesting problems of American life," and added that "the only thing that is worth while in human intercourse is to wake somebody up." Justice Hughes, of the supreme court, presided at the meeting, and other speakers were President Frost, of Berea college; F. G. Bonser, of Columbia university, and Hamilton W. Mabie, of The Outlook Magazine.

Distillers Hit By Court.

Distillers in prohibition territory in Kentucky are not allowed to have in their possession whisky for the purpose of sale by retail in quantities of less than five gallons to retail customers residing in another state, who forward the purchasing price with their orders to distiller at his place of business. The court of appeals decided this point in an opinion by Judge Nunn. Under the agreed state of facts the defendant had several gallons bottled at his home, marked and set apart for shipment by Southern Express to customers in Tennessee, who had ordered the liquor by mail and sent the purchase price to him. The court held that the sale already was consummated in McCleary county, which is dry, and that the defendant held the liquor as bailee or agent for the customers.

Resignations Received.

Resignations of Capt. Claude L. Harris and Second Lieut. Fay K. Ashby, of Company E, Third Infantry, of Madisonville, and First Lieut. Richard Alexander, of Company M, Third Infantry, of Calhoun, were received and accepted by the state military department.

May Extend Territory.

Section 4464-B, Kentucky Statutes, authorizing trustees of a graded school district to extend its boundaries with the written consent of a majority of the people of the annexed territory, is constitutional. The court of appeals, in an opinion by Judge Turner, reversed the Webster circuit court in the case of the trustees of the Slangh, eraville graded school district against B. M. Brooks and directed the court to sustain a demurrer to the petition of Brooks, who sought to enjoin a $4,500 bond issue voted by the district.

For Sale.

A 5-room cottage and lot on Fourth street, with gas and electric lights. Jay Lackey. Phone 62 or 337. 7-41

Delicate Children usually only need a food tonic to make them strong and healthy Perrin's Olive Oil Emulsion is not only the best food tonic but is pleasant to take. Sold only by us.
Henry L. Perry.

GREAT BRITAIN
PLANS BLOCKADE

OF AN UNPRECEDENTED CHARACTER—INTENTION TO STOP ALL SHIPPING.

United States Government Had Not Been Officially Advised at This Time.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Washington, March 1.—Inasmuch as the United States government had not been advised, either through Ambassador Page or the British embassy here of the reported notification to neutralize all shipping to and from Germany and Austria, officials were unable to express any opinion upon this latest development. From the brief press report of Great Britain's plan, it was thought in official quarters that a blockade of unprecedented character was in prospect, likely to involve many complicated questions of law. It was pointed out that no question has been the subject of more controversy in international law than that of blockade, and officials said that the text of England's declaration was received and carefully examined. It would not be possible to discuss its scope or say whether or not the United States would recognize it as binding on its vessels.

AUTOMOBILE IS HIT BY TRAIN.

Kokomo, Ind.—Margaret Cottey, 16 years old, daughter of Howard Cottey, electrical contractor, and Mary Louise Dixon, 17, daughter of Walter J. Dixon, head of the Kokomo Asphalt Paving Co., both girls prominent in the younger set, were instantly killed, and Mrs. Walter Dixon, 42, received injuries from which she died within a short time as a result of a collision with a northbound Pennsylvania train.

MONTH OF FEBRUARY'S TOLL.

In February just ended 48 men, women and children met death in automobile accidents in the United States. Illinois led with nine. New York state was second with eight. Twenty of the 48 fatalities were due to the skidding of cars. Five were the results of speed. The remaining victims were pedestrians.

10,000 MEN CLAMOR FOR JOBS.

New York.—Following the Court ruling that it is illegal to hire foreign laborers on civic work, more than 10,000 men stormed the offices of contractors building subways and demanded the jobs held by aliens.

CINCINNATI MARKETS

Corn—No. 1 white 73c, No. 2 white 72 1/2c, No. 3 white 72c, No. 1 yellow 72c, No. 2 yellow 71 1/2c, No. 3 yellow 71c, No. 1 mixed 70c, No. 2 mixed 69 1/2c, No. 3 mixed 68 1/2c, No. 4 mixed 67 1/2c, No. 5 mixed 66 1/2c, No. 6 mixed 65 1/2c, No. 7 mixed 64 1/2c, No. 8 mixed 63 1/2c, No. 9 mixed 62 1/2c, No. 10 mixed 61 1/2c, No. 11 mixed 60 1/2c, No. 12 mixed 59 1/2c, No. 13 mixed 58 1/2c, No. 14 mixed 57 1/2c, No. 15 mixed 56 1/2c, No. 16 mixed 55 1/2c, No. 17 mixed 54 1/2c, No. 18 mixed 53 1/2c, No. 19 mixed 52 1/2c, No. 20 mixed 51 1/2c, No. 21 mixed 50 1/2c, No. 22 mixed 49 1/2c, No. 23 mixed 48 1/2c, No. 24 mixed 47 1/2c, No. 25 mixed 46 1/2c, No. 26 mixed 45 1/2c, No. 27 mixed 44 1/2c, No. 28 mixed 43 1/2c, No. 29 mixed 42 1/2c, No. 30 mixed 41 1/2c, No. 31 mixed 40 1/2c, No. 32 mixed 39 1/2c, No. 33 mixed 38 1/2c, No. 34 mixed 37 1/2c, No. 35 mixed 36 1/2c, No. 36 mixed 35 1/2c, No. 37 mixed 34 1/2c, No. 38 mixed 33 1/2c, No. 39 mixed 32 1/2c, No. 40 mixed 31 1/2c, No. 41 mixed 30 1/2c, No. 42 mixed 29 1/2c, No. 43 mixed 28 1/2c, No. 44 mixed 27 1/2c, No. 45 mixed 26 1/2c, No. 46 mixed 25 1/2c, No. 47 mixed 24 1/2c, No. 48 mixed 23 1/2c, No. 49 mixed 22 1/2c, No. 50 mixed 21 1/2c, No. 51 mixed 20 1/2c, No. 52 mixed 19 1/2c, No. 53 mixed 18 1/2c, No. 54 mixed 17 1/2c, No. 55 mixed 16 1/2c, No. 56 mixed 15 1/2c, No. 57 mixed 14 1/2c, No. 58 mixed 13 1/2c, No. 59 mixed 12 1/2c, No. 60 mixed 11 1/2c, No. 61 mixed 10 1/2c, No. 62 mixed 9 1/2c, No. 63 mixed 8 1/2c, No. 64 mixed 7 1/2c, No. 65 mixed 6 1/2c, No. 66 mixed 5 1/2c, No. 67 mixed 4 1/2c, No. 68 mixed 3 1/2c, No. 69 mixed 2 1/2c, No. 70 mixed 1 1/2c, No. 71 mixed 1/2c, No. 72 mixed 1/4c, No. 73 mixed 1/8c, No. 74 mixed 1/16c, No. 75 mixed 1/32c, No. 76 mixed 1/64c, No. 77 mixed 1/128c, No. 78 mixed 1/256c, No. 79 mixed 1/512c, No. 80 mixed 1/1024c, No. 81 mixed 1/2048c, No. 82 mixed 1/4096c, No. 83 mixed 1/8192c, No. 84 mixed 1/16384c, No. 85 mixed 1/32768c, No. 86 mixed 1/65536c, No. 87 mixed 1/131072c, No. 88 mixed 1/262144c, No. 89 mixed 1/524288c, No. 90 mixed 1/1048576c, No. 91 mixed 1/2097152c, No. 92 mixed 1/4194304c, No. 93 mixed 1/8388608c, No. 94 mixed 1/16777216c, No. 95 mixed 1/33554432c, No. 96 mixed 1/67108864c, No. 97 mixed 1/134217728c, No. 98 mixed 1/268435456c, No. 99 mixed 1/536870912c, No. 100 mixed 1/1073741824c.

SENATE APPROVES
U. S. NAVAL BILL

Favors Spending $152,000,000—Provides for Twenty-One Submarines.

PROVIDES FOR 2 BATTLESHIPS

Appropriation Measure Is Passed Unanimously—Senator Lewis Says Nation Is Wise In Strengthening Its Defense.

Washington, March 1.—The senate passed the navy, fortifications and diplomatic and consular appropriation bill after much discussion as to condition of the national defenses and the burden of work and difficulties piled on this government and its military and diplomatic officials by the European war.

The naval bill carries $152,000,000, the fortifications bill $6,000,000 and the diplomatic bill $4,200,000.

Senator Smoot lost out in his effort to secure authorization for the immediate construction of 75 new submarines for coast defense purposes. The senate accepted the naval affairs committee recommendation that 16 of such warships be built, five of them being fleet submarines, seagoing and of greatest range of activity.

Following along the same lines, Senator Jones of Washington urged liberal appropriations for submarines which were, in his judgment, the greatest war defensive engines of the present day.

The navy bill as it passed the senate is in the same shape practically as it was reported to the house from the house naval affairs committee. The house cut the authorization for submarines from sixteen to eight and authorized but one fleet submarine. It refused also to authorize a hospital ship which the senate voted back into the bill.

Abolition of the navy plucking board, as provided in the house bill, was approved.

Feed of all kinds delivered to any place in Richmond at lowest prices. Elmer Tate, Irvin St. Phone 793. 4-11

GIVEN $450,000
WHEN DISCHARGED

Ex-Head of R. I. Road Tells of Dual Pay and Bonus.

LOREE WAS FIRED BY REID

Purchaser of Lines Upholds "Million Dollar" Salaries, But Wouldn't Own Road Now—Others Fare Likewise.

Washington, March 1.—An annual salary of $37,500 as chairman of the executive committee of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, the same amount for serving simultaneously as chairman of the executive committee of the Frisco system and a guarantee of $500,000 additional compensation the compensation pledged to L. F. Loree when he left the presidency of the Baltimore & Ohio road to join the Rock Island forces. He held the new places ten months in 1904 and then was asked by Daniel G. Reid to resign.

Complying, he received in settlement of his agreement with Mr. Leeds $450,000 in Rock Island railway bonds. Mr. Loree testified to this effect at the interstate commerce commission's investigation of the Rock Island's financial affairs during the Reid-Leeds-Moore control from 1901 to 1914.

Hits Senator Lewis. James Hamilton Lewis, now U. S. Vanner of $250,000, J. W. Folk, counsel for the commission, brought out the fact that Rock Island people did not like this transaction. R. A. Jackson, then general counsel for the Rock Island, sent this telegram to Robert Mather, president:

"United States circuit court at Springfield, Ill., has just committed Vanner to jail for six months and fined him $1,000."

Mr. Mather sent this answer to Jackson: "Message received. Couldn't we intervene and ask the court to send Jim Ham with him?"

James Hamilton Lewis, now United States senator for Illinois, was counsel for Vanner in his suit against the Rock Island.

Reid Defends Big Salaries. "Another witness was Mr. Reid himself, who defended the "big salaries" paid to Rock Island officials, declared that he would not now accept as a gift the control of any western or southwestern railroad and that when he and his associates took over the Rock Island it had a "surplus" of $8,000,000, "but no railroad," being merely a "streak of rust." He said also a man capable of operating an 8,000-mile railway was worth $1,000,000 a year.

The commerce commission itself was held responsible for the financial troubles of the Rock Island railroad by Mr. Reid, who contended the trouble was not caused by the taking over of had securities or by payment of heavy salaries and bills, but by the rulings of the commission, which prevented advances in rates to meet higher wages and costs of improvements.

R. A. Jackson, general counsel for the Rock Island from 1902 to 1910, also told the commission he had been asked to resign by Mr. Reid and had no knowledge of why. While he had no agreement, he had received $100,000.

C. H. Warren, assistant to President Leeds in 1902-4, said he had been induced to go to the Rock Island under an agreement that he receive stock worth a minimum of $150,000 at the end of two years. When he left the company "because the situation became unsatisfactory" he was given $50,000 cash and New Jersey holding company stock having a face value of $205,000.

Mr. Reid said what the railroads needed was "more rates, more tariffs and less legislation."

Senator Newlands introduced a bill during the day to empower the commerce commission to examine all papers of a common carrier, including correspondence.

RUSSIANS SAID TO BE ACTIVE

Black Sea Fleet Reported as Endeavoring to Force Way Through the Bosphorus.

Athens, March 1.—The Russian Black sea fleet is reported in advice received here to be trying to force the Bosphorus and approach Constantinople from the east. A bombardment of the forts on the Asiatic side is said to have opened. As the Bosphorus is only 18 miles long, the Russian warships may reach Constantinople before the Anglo-French fleet.

SOUGHT LIFE OF DIPLOMAT

Man Who Attempted to Murder Turkish Minister of the Interior Is Executed.

Constantinople, via Berlin and Amsterdam, March 1.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Talat Bey, minister of the interior, in Stamboul. Three shots were fired by the assassin, without effect. The would-be assassin was executed.

Thaw Trial Is Postponed.

New York, March 1.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw on conspiracy charges growing out of his escape from Matteawan was postponed until March 8.

A dollar is nothing to you. Our subscription list is a big thing to us. Hand us that dollar!

Getting Richer.

We are in receipt of an interesting statement showing the result of the work of the Board of Equalization, composed of J. G. Baxter, Elkanah Pigg, R. K. Mohrley, S. M. Cornelison, Dr. R. G. Best, W. A. Arbuckle and John B. Millon. There are 6,334 voters in Madison county; land is valued at $8,978,950; town lots, $2,427,940; money and notes, $1,238,650; personal property, $1,825,290; total, $13,768,030. Last year the totals were, $13,350,000. The increase this year over last, therefore, was $418,030.

ASSESSMENT FOR 1915

Bonds	15,400 00
Mortgage notes	557,300 00
Other notes	302,450 00
Accounts	66,470 00
Cash on hand and in bank	223,640 00
Stock in corporations	81,600 00
Acres of land and value	8,978,950 00
Town lots	2,427,940 00
Houses	286,790 00
Jacks	6,680 00
Cattle	429,590 00
Sheep	16,350 00
Hogs	72,790 00
Vehicles	88,180 00
Household and kitchen	152,300 00
Stores and stocks of goods	373,010 00
Total money, notes, etc.	1,238,650 00
Total personal other than notes, etc.	1,825,290 00
Total all property for tax	$13,768,030 00
Polis	6,334 00
Dogs	1,939 00

WORKS BOTH WAYS.

Please hand us that dollar so we can "settle down and pay up." Then all of us will smile and smile.

Boone Trail.

Surveyors have been following the Boone Trail and located same near Richmond and on to Boonesboro. This is the original and proper location.

Change of Address.

Our mailing galleries will be corrected this month. If you have changed your address, you should notify us at once. Newspapers cannot be forwarded. Give the exact name printed on the paper and your old address as well as the new one.

Generous.

Mrs. S. A. Deatherage has very generously offered her services to aid the Associated Charities by cutting out garments for the worthy poor of the city and teaching them how to make the same. Anyone wishing to help in this work is requested to send material, thread, buttons, etc., to her.

Dressmaker Moves.

Mrs. Russell, the dressmaker, who has had rooms with Mrs. J. W. Harris, 3rd and Water streets, has moved over J. S. Stanifer's store, corner Second and Main. Mrs. Russell's long and successful experience in her line of business warrants her in asking a trial of her work. She believes she can please the most fastidious.

Stop Grunting.

Why suffer another minute? Vanishing Rheumatic Powder will cure you. If your rheumatism cannot supply you, send $1 to us for a full-sized bottle. Bayless Remedy Co., Lexington, Ky. 9-11

Big Cut In Prices

Still On At

SEXTON'S

All Goods Cut In Price

New Blue Hats

Spring
Green Hats

Hats
Brown Hats

Hats
Grey Hats

Black Hats

White Hats

Red Hats

Yellow Hats

Purple Hats

Pink Hats

Light Blue Hats

Light Green Hats

Light Yellow Hats

Light Pink Hats

Light Purple Hats

Light Blue Hats

Light Green Hats

Light Yellow Hats

Light Pink Hats

Light Purple Hats

Light Blue Hats

Light Green Hats

Light Yellow Hats

Light Pink Hats

Light Purple Hats

Light Blue Hats

Light Green Hats

Light Yellow Hats

Light Pink Hats

Light Purple Hats

Light Blue Hats

Light Green Hats

Light Yellow Hats

Light Pink Hats

Light Purple Hats

Light Blue Hats

Light Green Hats

Light Yellow Hats

Light Pink Hats

Light Purple Hats

<

THE CLIMAX-MADISONIAN

PUBLISHED EACH WEDNESDAY BY THE CLIMAX PRINTING COMPANY
INCORPORATED

Entered at the Postoffice at Richmond, Ky., as second-class mail matter under an Act of Congress of 1879

GRANT E. LILLY EDITOR PHONE 659
ANNA D. LILLY SOCIAL EDITOR PHONE 638
W. G. WHITE BUSINESS MANAGER PHONE 69

Our advertising space and Job Work is the same price to everybody. We play no favorites. (All advertisements to be carried till further orders, marked "tf" will be charged for until ordered out.)

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE $1.00
SIX MONTHS .50
THREE MONTHS .25
ONE MONTH .15

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Copy for change of advertisement must be in this office before noon Friday to insure change in the current issue. If received after that time it will be at our option. This paper is printed in two sections which makes the above rule imperatively necessary.

RICHMOND, KY., WEDNESDAY, MAR. 3, 1915.

CANDIDATES' CARDS

INADMISSIBLE IN ADVANCE
For State and District Offices...$15.00
For County Offices...10.00
For City and County Dist. Offices...5.00

We are authorized to announce that the following persons are Democratic candidates for the offices under which their names appear, to be voted for at the primary elections in August 1915 and 1917:

STATE AND DISTRICT OFFICES

Primary August, 1915

FOR AUDITOR

H. H. Colyer.

CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE

W. R. Shackelford.

J. M. Henton.

COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

B. A. Crutcher.

FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

James W. Wagers.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

John F. White.

COUNTY OFFICES

Primary, August 1917.

FOR SHERIFF

Lonc Tom Chennault.

G. W. Trim Deatherage.

Simon Turpin.

P. S. Whitlock.

FOR JAILER

G. W. Dearenger.

Aaron Sharp.

FOR ASSESSOR

W. F. Jarman.

J. W. Barclay.

Jerry B. Chambers.

Cyrus T. Stone.

NEW GAME LAW

A new game law that should be passed by all States would contain the following:

"Book agents may be shot between Oct. 1 and Sept. 1; Spring poets from March 1 to June 1; automobile speed demons from Jan. 1 to Jan. 1; road hogs from April 15 to April 15; amateur hunters from Sept. 1 to Feb. 1; war talkers; no closed season; any man who accepts a bribe for two years and then, when the bill is presented, says: 'I never ordered it,' may be killed on sight and shall be buried face down in quicklime, so as to destroy the germs and prevent the spread of the infection."—Ex.

Question: Why do you oppose the ship purchase bill?

Answer: Because it is a Wall Street trust measure which is being put over Pres. Wilson. The ship owners who cannot now safely sail their old rotten tubs want to put them off on the Government and then, when the war is over they will buy new ones. Did you know that Wall Street favored the bill?

Have we answered you, sonny?

Dr. Foote, preaching in Louisville, made use of the following sentence: "Our social life is rotting at the heart and we are becoming flippant, irreverent and vulgar, making the marriage relation a subject for jest and placing passions of the heart on a commercial basis, to be bought and sold for a mess of pottage."

Col. W. Walton says a Washington man has sued a chorus girl for kissing him against his will. She must have been eating Limburger cheese.

Circuit Court

After a busy session, extending over four weeks, circuit court finally adjourned Saturday at noon.

The motion for a new trial in the celebrated tobacco case was overruled. The defendants were given until the next term to file a bill of exceptions. The case will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

Friday was sentence day in court. Wm. Herd was sentenced to an indeterminate term of three to five years for voluntary manslaughter. Jake Bronston, Wm. Francis and Joe Tevis, colored, were each sentenced to a term of three years for grand larceny. Ed and Charles Smith were each sentenced to a term of five years for cattle stealing. Charles Williams was sentenced to a term of two years for breaking into a car. Henry and Will Hopkins have taken an appeal on their case and will remain in jail until it is disposed of.

The other prisoners were vaccinated and taken to the Reformatory at Frankfort today by Sheriff Benton.

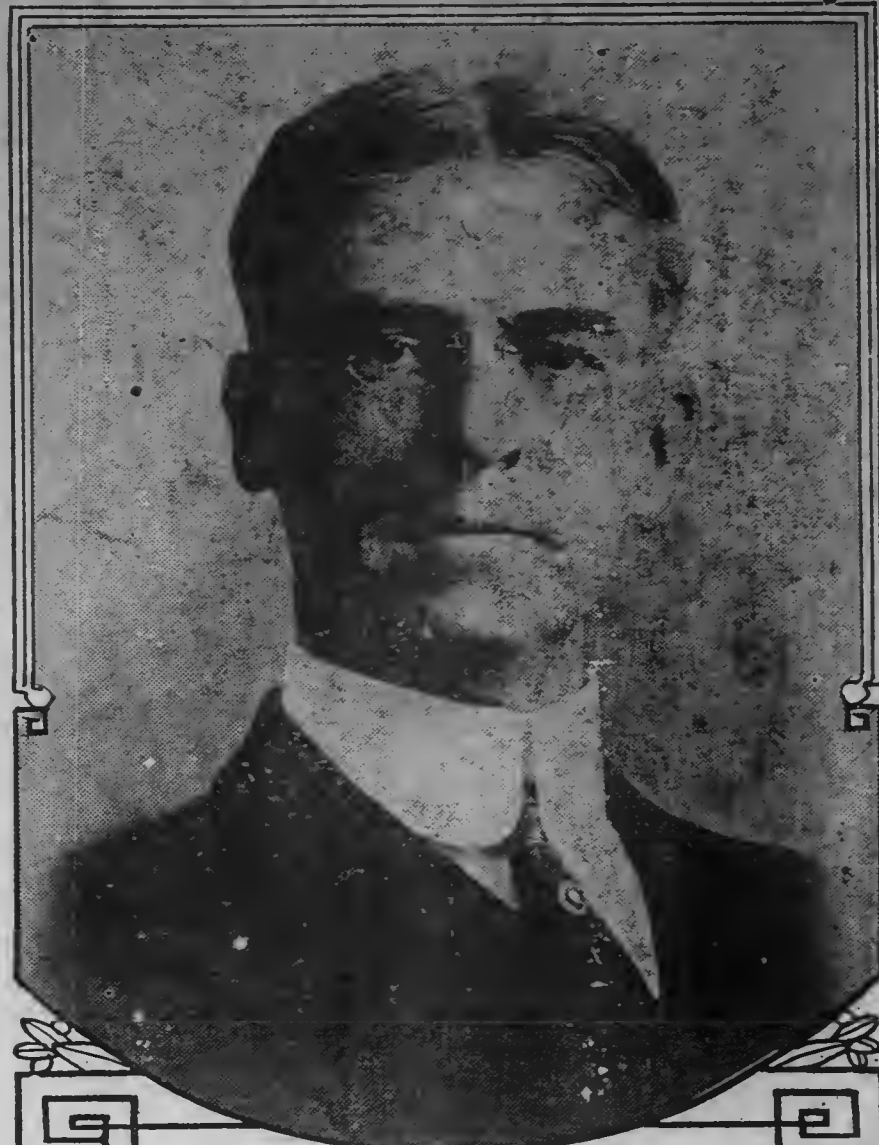

Court Day

A large crowd congregated in our capital on court day, brought here by the pretty weather, and to get information relative to the quarantine. Some cattle were on the local market, but no sales were permitted, and these cattle have been scattered around on the different farms.

Horses and mules plentiful, but the prices were very low with the exception of first class, high grade stock. Not many changed hands.

The people were all in good spirits and looking forward to the opening up of "good times." Spring plowing is progressing nicely, and the farmers say that the soil is breaking up splendidly. The merchants report good sales.

IS VETERAN OF THE PLATFORM

FRANK DIXON.

THE community which is so fortunate as to include Frank Dixon in its list of Lyceum lecturers has treated itself to an intellectual antidote for community ailments. Frank Dixon is an electric shock to dead theories and outworn viewpoints. He thinks along original lines, and he clothes his thoughts in words which makes his hearers think. He is desperately earnest, and his oratory pours out like a flood, sweeping opposition before it. A veteran of the platform, he knows the lecturer's art. There is a definite purpose behind his lectures, and the voice of a crusader's thunder through his addresses, but behind it all flashes a wit as keen as a razor, spicing the weighty discourse and making it palatable. Few lecturers approach him in word-painting ability; none surpass him in force and earnestness of delivery. He strikes twelve on every appearance. We are fortunate enough to have him with us this season as a part of our Lyceum course.

At Normal Chapel, Thursday, March 4, at 8 P. M.

ON TRAIL OF SLAYER

Aurora Police Active in Search of Assassin.

Witnesses Visit Chicago in Effort to Identify Murderer of Miss Emma Peterson.

Aurora, Ill., March 1.—Two witnesses who believe they can identify the slayer of Miss Emma Peterson in the third mysterious murder of a woman on the streets here, went to Chicago to look at Frank Ramsey, under arrest there. The Chicago police claimed they found a piece of gas pipe in Ramsey's room similar to the pipe with which Miss Peterson was slain. They also claimed that Ramsey admitted being in Aurora the night of the murder and asserted he had a prison record.

Detective Mar of Chicago was here with the pipe found in Ramsey's lodgings. It was of smaller size than the piece of pipe to which the bloodhounds led the local police from the scene of the murder, but it was of the same make, painted the same color and bore small, square nicks made by a pipe wrench in a manner identical with nicks on the pipe found here.

The Chicago detective also made the significant statement that drugs of various kinds were found in Ramsey's room. The local police have maintained that the slayer of Miss Peterson, who was also believed to have killed Theresa Hollander and Jennie Miller, was an insane man or a drug user.

Ramsey was arrested in Chicago while carrying $200 worth of hotel silverware believed to have been stolen. One of the witnesses who was asked to look at Ramsey in Chicago was the former Senator Albert J. Hopkins' residence in North Lake street. When President E. P. Hoerr, president of the company, was informed the dogs had followed a trail to the river bank in the company's junk yard where the piece of pipe was found, he made the following significant statement:

"The dogs were right. Our watchman told me that shortly after dark Thursday night a tall, strongly built man, wearing a long black overcoat, went to the pile of junk and fumbled around several minutes, and finally went away with a two-foot length of pipe. Because it was junk the watchman did not interfere. But after he heard of the murder he reported to me."

Another important clue upon which Chief of Police Michele worked was the gray glove found under the body of the girl. The mate to this glove was picked up along the trail followed by the police. The glove was new and evidently used by the assassin to prevent his fingers leaving any print on the pipe with which he crushed in Miss Peterson's forehead.

Chief Michele ordered a dragnet in the Hungarian settlement in the outskirts of Aurora. The chief was said to have learned where the gloves were purchased and to have been given a clue at the store which led to the settlement.

The most of the sixty suspects arrested were released.

OLD PARIS LANDMARK GONE

Flames Destroy Moulin Rouge, Long Noted as a Center of Gay Capital's Night Life.

Paris, March 1.—The famous Moulin Rouge, center of the Bohemian life of Paris and the Mecca of all amusement-seeking American tourists, was destroyed by fire Saturday.

If you have news items, call 659 and tell our Stenographer.

IT'S GREAT FOR BALKY BOWELS AND STOMACH

We want all people who have chronic stomach trouble or constipation, no matter of how long standing, to try one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy—one dose will convince you. This is the medicine so many of our local people have been taking with surprising results. The most thorough system cleanser ever sold. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

Advertisement

BUCKEYE.

Miss Barbara Guiley is sojourning at Buckeye.

Miss Willie Miles Ray has returned to Berea College, after spending several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ray.

Misses Alberta Moberley and Elsie Whittaker were the guests of their cousin, Miss Barbara Guiley on last Sunday night.

Miss Ida Hill is spending the week with her sister Mrs. Walker Bradshaw. Dr. McWilliams is up again from an attack of smallpox.

Mrs. Mealie Bogle has returned from a visit to her sister at Bohon.

Mr. Dan Ray and Miss Lottie Bolton drove to Lancaster last Thursday and were united in marriage. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

Mr. John Foster died at his home on Paint Lick Feb. 22d, of typhoid fever, after a short illness. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn his loss.

WHITE HALL.

The people of this community are glad to know that work has begun on the Richmond and Lexington pike, which is badly needed.

The farmers are very glad to have these pretty days and have returned to their plows. We hope they will not put in so much tobacco as usual.

Miss Nazrie Bolan, of London, is visiting Mrs. Ed Millon.

Mrs. Granville Cox entertained her two sisters, Mrs. Weaver and Mrs. Barnes, of Richmond, and Mr. Murphy Sunday.

Mrs. Sanford Oldham entertained a number of her lady friends at dinner last Thursday.

Mrs. Elen Todd is visiting Mrs. Eugene Todd.

Rev. McDougle filled his regular appointment at Mt. Pleasant Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. Brinnegar, who has been in the Good Samaritan Hospital at Lexington, is recovering rapidly since the amputation of his leg.

Mrs. Frank Burgin entertained a number of her friends at dinner Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dozier are the proud parents of a bouncing boy, who arrived Sunday to take his place in their home.

Miss Mary Miller, of Richmond, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. James Ellison.

On Monday morning a tenant house on the farm of Mr. Price Gumm was destroyed by fire.

Mr. Silas Reagan, aged 72 years, is very low with pneumonia.

WACO.

Mr. Dillard Rhodus has moved to the Tom Collins farm, near White Hall.

Friends of Geo. H. Thorpe are glad to see him in his place of business, again, after several weeks' absence. He has been suffering from a broken leg.

Mr. Jesse Covington, of Chandler, Mo., was the guest of Misses Fannie Cox and Annie Fluty.

R. C. Moberley is able to be out again, after having been confined by illness.

Mrs. B. F. Wilson, who has been suffering from tonsillitis, is much better.

Mrs. B. F. Boggs spent several days in Lexington with her mother, Mrs. R. F. Spears, and other relatives.

R. M. Rowland spent a day in Richmond on business.

The Bible class of Flat Woods church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wilson Saturday evening.

Messrs. B. F. and W. R. Boggs and G. S. McKinney attended the horse and jack sale at Lexington.

Mr. Tom Collins delivered an instructive lecture on scientific farming at the High School building Friday night of last week.

Miss Virginia Gibbs, a student at Madison Institute, spent Sunday with Miss Virginia Taylor.

Prof. Harris, of Richmond, visited our school Friday afternoon.

Mr. Wm. Cleveland and wife, of Nicholasville, visited relatives here a few days since.

Misses Katherine Covington, Elizabeth Searcy and Lucy Thorpe were guests of Miss Ida Blanton last week.

Miss Minnie Zittel entertained Mrs. Florence Rice and Miss Nellie Taylor one evening last week.

Misses Anna Cockrell, Sue Park and Nellie Taylor were guests of Miss Katherine Pitman one night last week.

The graded school closed last Friday, 27th ult. The high school will continue till the latter part of May.

Mrs. Wm. Cleveland Wells has returned to her home in Nicholasville, after an extended visit with relatives here.

Rev. E. F. Patten was unable to fill his pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday, on account of the illness of his wife.

Miss Sabra Estes was away from school several days on account of illness.

The graded school closed Friday and as yet no subscription school has been arranged for.

Miss Elizabeth Searcy visited Mrs. Wm. Boggs at Red House last week.

Messrs. G. S. McKinney and Fred Witt each lost a valuable cow last week.

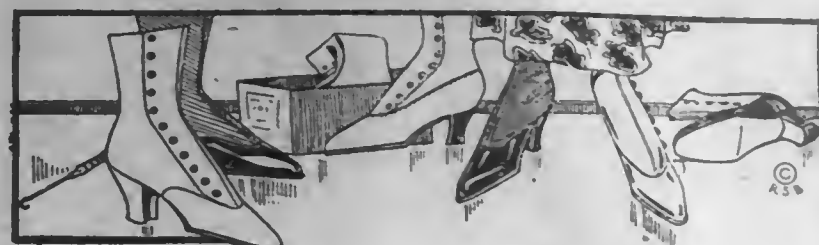

Judge J. M. Benton was in Waco for

A Food and Nerve Tonic is frequently required by old age. We always recommend as an ideal combination for this purpose.

Henry L. Perry.

---after reading this advertisement look in our windows

There you see displayed the very newest creations in ladies' footwear for spring

Neat grey and black cloth top boots in both lace and button styles—especially suitable for Easter and springtime wear

These are regular $3.50 and $4 shoes but for one week they will go at..... $2.98

Saturday, March 6th to Saturday, March 13th

This is a most unusual offer and is certain to meet with a liberal response, so come as early in the day as possible

J. S. STANIFER

Kentucky Produce Company

WHOLESALE SHIPPERS OF
All Kinds of Country Produce, Hides, Furs, Roots and Wool

Ready for Business After Monday, March 8th

We Quote Prices Each Week and Will Buy Your Stuff 52 Weeks in the Year. We Want Your Business

Come in and Let's Get Acquainted. Courteous Treatment and a Square Deal to All

Opposite L. & N. Main Street Depot

Reference State Bank & Trust Co. Telephone 444 Richmond, Kentucky

SWEET-VAC.

Combination

Carpet Sweeper and Vacuum Cleaner

together or separately. Put in on approval and fully guaranteed.

Model S $10.50, K $8.50 R $6.50

All Models same Combination

Wm. W. ADAMS
North Street Phone 724

E. C. Million, Pres. T. J. Curtis, V-Pres. Dr. C. H. Vaught, Sec. E. Deatherage, Treas.

Biggest in Prices--Biggest in Amount of Sales--Biggest in Floor Space

Madison Tobacco Warehouse

Incorporated
Near L. & A Depot Capital $40,000.00 Telephone 221

DIRECTORS
E. C. Million T. J. Curtis Dr. C. H. Vaught T. J. Smith
Marion Coy J. M. Haden E. Deatherage

To Tobacco Growers and Other Friends:

Both the Madison and Home Tobacco Warehouses have decided to close this season on Friday, March 12. We wish now to assure you that the directors and owners of the Madison House feel deeply grateful for the very liberal patronage you have given us in the season just closing. It is the largest in point of pounds we have ever had. We have sold nearly 5,000,000 pounds, and this we expect to reach before the market closes. The year just closing has in many respects been a very bad one for all concerned. Tobacco for the most part has been, as you know, of low and damaged and inferior quality. Good crops, however, have never sold higher. Our house which is a very large one has many times this year been over run and many of our friends have been compelled to go elsewhere for the sale of their crops. Many wagons have come in out of their turn, yet these and many other things were wholly unavoidable with us this year. We have done as we always have the best we could to give each and every one who sold with us fair and honest treatment, trying all the time to get every cent we could for any crop brought to us. We not only hope, but earnestly believe, that you will in the very near future see the Richmond market selling 10,000,000 pounds annually. Already one of the biggest and best in the State and growing every year, selling more this year than any previous year. Prices have been low but we couldn't help this, for they have been low on every market in the State. Our prices, as usual, will compare honestly with those obtained by any house in Kentucky.

We have secured about three pounds of the famous Ben Kelley tobacco seed which we will give our friends who will call for them.

Now finally we want once again to thank you, and we mean this for everyone who has ever sold with us, visited us or wished us success, and to those who sold elsewhere, we will be glad to see you back with us next year. Two weeks more our house will be open for tobacco and we know that the market will close strong and high. Sold W. C. Ross' crop lot yesterday of 695 pounds at an average of $17.40 per hundred.

Any time, spring, summer, fall or winter that any of us can be of service to you command us, we will do the rest.

We are sincerely and gratefully yours,

MADISON TOBACCO WAREHOUSE CO., Incorporated

THE BIG HOUSE

Continues to lead the Richmond tobacco market. Here are some of the sales made on our floor during the past few days

Tilden Parrish
W'p'd Bennett & Riddle
Hanger & Nikirk
Covington & Derringer
Conlee & Cates

4830 lbs brought $605.84 average $12.53
11715 lbs brought $1402.55 average $11.98
4210 lbs brought $437.23 average $10.39
6590 lbs brought $803.20 average $11.56
4000 lbs brought $473.52 average $11.84

Coy and Whitlock
Maupin and Campbell
Cornelson and Reed
Hockaday & Richardson

9745 lbs brought $1085.83 average $11.15
1520 lbs brought $179.08 average $11.77
4985 lbs brought $532.06 average $10.69
4930 lbs brought $504.54 average $10.24

We are doing this every week for your friends. Let us do it for you this week

Our House Closes for the Season after the Sale of March 12, 1915

HOME TOBACCO WAREHOUSE

Richmond

"We Give You A Square Deal"

Kentucky

ALHAMBRA

Open 1:30 to 5:30
6:30 to 10:30
ALWAYS A GOOD SHOW

TODAY--Vitagraph Presents Their Great 5-reel Masterpiece

"A Million Bid"

A drama taken from the famous play, "Agnes," with Pinta Stewart, Julia Swayne Gordon, Kate Price and Harry T. Norey. This is a wonderful Broadway feature and SHOULD NOT BE MISSED

FRIDAY--See the World's Most Notorious Woman

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw

and her son
Russell Wm. Thaw

in "Threads of Destiny"

A 5-part Lubin Masterpiece. This picture costs $50 to show for one day only. Be sure and see it

Every Monday "Exploits of Elaine"

Coming March 10, "Love, Luck and Gasoline"

March 11, Chas. Chapin in "His New Job"

Good, Juicy Steaks Lackey & Todd
Phone 62 7-11

FOR SALE--Heating Stove, at Climax
Madisonian office.
Tobacco canvass better than ever at 2c and up yard. A. Dobrowsky. 7-11

Hamilton buys only the best cattle
Nothing too good for Madisonians. 3-11
Hauling of all kinds promptly done.
Elmer Tate, Irvine street. Phone 783. 4

Thurman

Has nice country butter at 25 and 30c per pound. Come and see for yourself. 6
Eggs! Eggs! Eggs!!!
Brown Leghorn eggs, 15 for $1--100 for
$5.00. W. T. Olds, Union City, Ky. 6-11

For Rent

A cottage, with all modern conveniences,
6 rooms, on Fifth street. Mrs.
V. H. Hobson. 5-11

Eggs

R. C. and S. C. Brown Leghorn eggs
Kulps strain, pure stock, heavy layers.
Eggs $1 per setting. Book orders now.
Geo. P. Martin,
8 111 First street. 8-11

For Sale

A number one Remington typewriter, nearly new. Also set of carriage harness and a gentleman's saddle. R. J.
McKee, Phones 60 and 168. 6-11

For Rent

Warehouse on Orchard street and L. & N. R. R. track, within 100 feet of freight depot. Possession given at once.
Colby Taylor, Phone 92. 13-11

For Rent

A good 7 room house, all necessary out-buildings, large garden, 3 1/2 acres in cow pasture. The old Moberley home on Second street, near Female Institute.
Apply to T. J. Moberley. 10-11

Salesman Wanted.

To look after our interest in Madison and adjacent counties. Salary or commission. Address Lincoln Oil Co., Cleveland, Ohio. 8-11

Found,

On Lancaster avenue, a pair of gold-framed glasses. Call and pay for this
adv. and get them. 8-11

Man Wanted.

Want a good man in Madison for permanent paying business. No money required. Write today. J. N. Bush, 311
College street, Winchester, Ky. 7-11

Stray Sheep.

Two stray white sheep came to my house about January 21st. Owner can have same by paying for this notice and keep of sheep. W. H. Wiseman, Boggs
Lane Richmond. 5-11

Notice.

All persons having claims against the estate of John William Farley, deceased, are requested to prove their claim, as required under the Statutes, and file same with me on or before April 1, 1915, or same will be barred. C. C. Wallace, Administrator. 9-11

Suits and Overcoats at your own price at Stouffer's. 12-11

For Rent

Residence southeast corner Third and Water streets, embracing about 1 acre of ground; extra large garden, stable, &c.
Colby Taylor, Phone 292. 9-11

Thanks!

A large number of subscribers called on us court day and showed their appreciation of this paper by renewing for another year. Thank you very much.

Give Elmer Tate a call for anything in his line. Phone 703. 4-11

Notice to Housekeepers.

To the housekeepers of Richmond and Madison county--I have accepted the agency for the Sweeper Vac, one of the greatest machines ever offered to the public. Would be glad to demonstrate same in your homes without obligating you in the least. Wm. W. Adams,
Phone 724. 9-11

Wanted.

We want the names and postoffice addresses of our absent Madisonians. We print each week 5 extra copies of our paper to supply any missing numbers, and we would be glad to mail to your relatives and friends copies of these papers. Give us their names.

House Burned.

A house occupied by Talton Jones at Boonesboro, burned Saturday afternoon, with nearly all its contents. At the time of the fire the body of their dead infant was in the house and it was rescued with some difficulty. Much sympathy is felt for the family in their double affliction.

Best prices in town on hay, corn, oats, field seeds, etc., at Elmer Tate's, Irvine street. Phone 793. 4-11

At Panama Exposition.

A beautiful Steinway Art Grand Piano graces the magnificent New York
State Building at the Panama Pacific Exposition. Such repeated triumphs for the Steinway Piano have become a rule throughout the world. Small Uprights, $500.00. Small Grand, $750.00. Catalogue upon request.
Steinway & Sons,
Louisville, Ky.

Bring us your eggs, poultry and hides.
Highest cash prices paid. M. M. Hamilton. Phone 614. 9-11

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy extended to us in our recent bereavement in the loss of our dearly beloved daughter, Maud Vaughn Perkins; also for the beautiful floral offerings, especially Rev. Reynolds, for the many visits during her illness and the beautiful funeral service. And to Rev.
Barnes for his consoling words and to the choir for its beautiful songs and to the Baptist church for its many acts of love.
We also wish to thank Mr. Richard for the efficient manner in which he conducted the funeral.

THE BEREAVED FAMILY.

Best of Groceries at Lackey & Todd's
Phone 62. 7-11

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw

And Son Russell to be Seen
At Alhambra Friday.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, known to all as a famous beauty, the world's most notorious woman, will appear at the Alhambra Friday, 5th in a 5 reel Lubin masterpiece, assisted by her son, Russell William Thaw, in "Threads of Destiny."

Coming Wednesday, (today), all star
Broadway feature, "A Million Bid," taken from the famous play, "Agnes."
The cast of characters is, Aneta Stewart, Julia Swayne Gordon, Kate Price and Harry T. Norey. These two pictures are wonderful ones, and should not be missed.
See "Exploits of Elaine" every Monday.

Spirella Corsets.

Mrs. S. A. Deatherage has a full line of the latest models in Spirella Corsets, and will come to your home to fit same.
Everything new and pretty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Phone 500. 9-11

Business Meeting of Associ- ated Charities.

Recently the Board of Managers of the Associated Charities held a meeting at which the Constitution was completed and By-laws adopted. A few changes were introduced, among which was the election of a Permanent Chairman of the Board and this office will be filled by Mrs. M. C. Kellogg. Miss Curran
Smith was made secretary; Mrs. R. J.
McKee, treasurer; and Madame Piotrowska, the General Secretary of the Board, is in charge of all work, with headquarters over Perry's drug store, 231 West Main. The office hours will be from 4 to 5:30 daily, except Sunday.
The public is requested to send all contributions to headquarters and to refrain from giving at the doors. By so doing you will assist the work of the organized charities.

The churches and the city have aided well in the work and individuals are urged to become members by paying a fee of $1.00 per annum.

Church Notes

Sunday-school attendance at the First Church Sunday was 334; offerings $17-85; average attendance for January, 260; average offerings, $14.22; average for
Feb., 335; av. offering for Feb., $20.41.
The aim of the Bible school is to have every month show a greater average than the month preceding throughout the year. The services last Sunday were largely attended, morning and night. There were two additions by letter.

Next Sunday morning Dr. Crossfield, president of Transylvania University,
preaches at the First Christian church.
Everybody should hear this great educator and fine pulpit orator. At the evening services there will be a sacred concert given by Prof. Howard E. Taylor, of Berea, assisted by Mr. Gordon Imrie, tenor. Prof. Taylor is an organist of many years' experience and those who have heard him say he is the equal,
if not the superior, of any of the artists from a distance who have given recitals here. This will be one of the events of the season. The program will satisfy all classes. You will enjoy hearing some of the familiar hymns. All are cordially invited.

The C. W. B. M. meets Wednesday and the Circle, of the First Christian church, meets Thursday at 3 p. m.

No "tuff" steaks at Hamilton's. 3-11

Frank Dixon.

Of all the lecturers we have had on the Chautauqua platform here in the past three years, Frank Dixon is undoubtedly the most popular. Mr. Dixon was born of Scotch-Irish parents in North Carolina. His scholarly lectures sparkle with spontaneous and original wit. They not only illuminate, they inspire. He has a reputation of being radically conservative and conservatively radical.
In the past twelve years he has filled nearly 2,000 lecture engagements.
Hear him Thursday night, March 4th,
at Normal Chapel, on "The Square Deal."

.. In Society ..

The Cecilia Club, one of the leading musical clubs of the city, held an open session at the First Christian church, Wednesday, February 24. Many of the leading musicians were present to enjoy this feast.
The following delightful programme was fautlessly rendered:

1. Largo Mrs. Harvey Chenault
2. Evensong Mrs. Johnson
3. No Night There Mrs. Pickels
4. Sonata Op. 14, No. 1 Beethoven
5. The Flower Song Miss Noland
6. Prelude--Gloria Domini Miss Waits
7. Aria from Samson and Delilah Mrs. Chenault
8. March from "Tannhauser" Wagner
9. Thou, Oh Lord, Art My Protector Mrs. Kellogg
10. The Shepherd Boy Wilton
11. I Know That My Redeemer Liveth Mrs. Robert Burnam
12. a Minuet No. 2 Beethoven

In celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage, Judge and Mrs. J.
P. Hobson were the hosts at a beautifully appointed dinner yesterday at their home on Shelby street, at which their guests included Governor James B. McCreary, Judge
Shackelford Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Stone
Walker, Mrs. Lullie Sale, Miss Annie Neuse and Messrs. Charles, Robert and Joe Hobson. Spring flowers formed a pretty decoration for the table, the central ornament being a basket filled with tulips, hyacinths and jonquils, mingled with maidenhair ferns. Silver candelsticks holding yellow tapers and shades added to the beauty of the table. Toasts for many more years of health and happiness for the bride and bridegroom of thirty years ago were given and numerous congratulatory messages were read from distant friends and relatives--Frankfort Journal.

Miss Marianne Collins had the last meeting of the Young Ladies' Bridge Club and a delightful afternoon was spent. Besides the regular members, Misses Lewis and Dean, the guests of Mrs. Hale Dean, were present. The trophy was won by Mrs.
Geo. Phelps, who played for the hosts.

Mrs. J. C. Bosley was hostess of a lovely tea on Saturday afternoon, given in compliment to Mrs. R. L. Telford and daughters.

Miss Bessie Miller entertained the Kentucky Sewing Club very delightfully on Friday afternoon at her home on Lancaster avenue.

Mrs. J. Hale Dean gave a beautiful six o'clock dinner on Sunday in honor of her attractive visitors, Miss Mary Lewis and Miss Hannah Dean, of Owensboro. Covers were laid for ten.

Mrs. James E. Brock, of Cates avenue, was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a tea at the St. Louis Club. The St. Louis Daily Globe-Democrat of February 21, contains a picture of Mrs. Brock. Her husband, James E. Brock, is a brother of our Prof. H. H.
Brock, now the efficient County Superintendent of Schools for Madison county.
Mr. James E. Brock is the Secretary to the Board of Directors of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., of St. Louis, Mo., one of the largest banking institutions of the South.

Miss Margaret Parrish entertained the Nullo Club on Thursday afternoon in her usual charming manner. After a number of pleasant games a delicious lunch of sandwiches, wine, punch, black cake and nut rolls was served. The trophy was won by Miss Mary D. Pickels, who played for the hosts.

The Parent-Teachers' meeting held a very pleasant session on Friday afternoon at the Model School. Mrs. J. P. Culbertson read an article on "Teaching the Child Self-control," which was most interesting. Miss Maude Gibson discussed "Art and its Development" in her original way, which was much enjoyed. The afternoon closed with a social hour, when Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Jonah Wagers served delicious sandwiches and tea.

A beautiful musical event of next Monday will be the Recital at the Woman's Club, beginning at two o'clock. Mrs.
M. C. Kellogg, Chairman of Music, will have charge of the programme, and will be assisted by Mesdames A. R. Denny, S.
J. McGaughey, R. R. Burnam, Miss Jamie
Caperton, Miss Mary D. Pickels and Miss Marian Noland. The public is very cordially invited.

The Boonesborough Chapter, D. A. R., was charmingly entertained on Monday afternoon at Blair Park. A most interesting programme was given by Mrs. J. C.
Bosley on "The Cause of the War," and Mrs. Lewis Neale on "The Early History of Kentucky." Following the reading of the papers, tea, sandwiches, delicious cake and home-made candies were served. Beside the hostess there were present, Mesdames A. R. Burnam, Hugh Bates, J. G.
Bosley, Alice Tribble, S. A. Phelps, Will
Collins, M. B. Arbuckle, J. M. Kennedy,
Lewis Neale, Grant E. Lilly, and Misses
Emma DeJarnette, Laura Bright, Maude
Gibson, Willie Kenney and Jamie Caperton, the latter two assisting in entertaining.

The Sherwood Music Club will meet with Miss Austin Lilly, Saturday at three o'clock p. m.

Personal

Phone 638 or 659 for all personal items.

Dr. D. J. Williams is visiting in Jackson,
Ky., this week.

Mrs. J. P. Ferrill is visiting friends in Winchester.

Mr. Burton Faris was the week-end guest of relatives in the city.

Mrs. Brent Nunnally and children are visiting in Mt. Sterling.

Miss Bonnie Proctor, of Lexington, is now with B. E. Belue & Co.

Mrs. Robert Terrill has been the recent guest of friends in Berea.

Mrs. J. W. Zaring spent several days the past week in Lexington.

Mrs. George White is out again after being quite sick with the gripe.

Mr. B. E. Belue is in the city this week buying additional spring goods.

Mr. Will Arnold, who has been quite sick with gripe, is now able to be out.

Attorneys C. C. and William Wallace were in Irvine, Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wiggins, of Winchester, visited his mother here Sunday.

Miss Sue Scrivner has returned to Winchester, after a visit to relatives here.

Mr. J. S. Stapp, of Lexington, was in the city Monday, looking hale and hearty.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hanger left today for a ten days' stay at French Lick Springs.

Each lady calling at this office will receive a package of flower seeds as long as they last.

Miss Amanda Turner, of Danville, visited
Mr. R. E. Baker and family, Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. D. J. Williams and Mr. Moberly, of Ford, were welcome callers at our office
Monday.

Miss Emma Mithell, of Lexington, has been the week-end guest of Mrs. H. C.
Jasper.

Judge A. R. Burnam is much improved and his friends hope to see him out in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oldham visited
Judge and Mrs. Clay Arnold in Lancaster last week.

Miss Mary Sullivan has returned from a visit to relatives in Louisville and Lexington.

We Are Interested in Money-saving Prices

We are greatly reducing prices on all BOOTS, Booties, Heavy High Top Shoes of all kinds, consisting of the best brands the market affords, such as Hocker, Barker and Brown, and others of the leading and best makes that you are familiar with.

Also we are making heavy CUTS on all

Winter Underwear

such as Duofold, Coopers, and Wilson Bros. These lines of Underwear are the best and are both union and two-piece suits. These prices will interest you, and the kinds are what you have always gotten here.
Do not delay your buying but, come WHILE WE HAVE THEM.

Many other reductions all through the lines of odd lots in men's, women's and children's Shoes. We are also showing a few Extra New Shoes for these who always want the newest.

RICE AND ARNOLD

THE ONE PRICE HOUSE

Mr. Allen Zaring has had as his guest the past week Mr. John Hopkins, of Shelbyville, Ky.

Miss Virginia Young leaves this week for Des Moines, Iowa, to be absent for some time.

Mrs. James Burnam has returned from Winchester, where she has been the guest of her mother.

Rev. D. M. Sweets and daughter, of Louisville, have been the guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Holton.

Mrs. R. A. Sparks, of Mt. Vernon, has been the guest of Mrs. Chas. F. Higgins and Mrs. R. E. Turley.

Mr. Sam Willoughby, of Lexington, called at our office Monday, and said:
"Keep on sending it."

Hon. John E. Lanter, Superintendent of Public Schools, of Clark county, was a court day visitor in our city.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ward, of Paintsville, Ky., came last week for a visit to their daughter, Mrs. C. P. Willoughby.

Miss Mary Shearer, who has been quite ill at her home in the country for the past several weeks, shows little improvement.

Mr. Gales Jasper, who has been at home with the gripe, was able to resume his work at Kentucky University, Monday.

Mrs. John R. Gibson and Miss Margaret

Phelps motored to Lexington and Versailles, Sunday, and spent the day with relatives.

Mr. John Arnold is expected home from Florida tonight, having shortened his visit on account of the illness of his little daughter, Mary.

The Middlesboro Choral Club, under the able direction of the Rev. J. V. Logan, is making fine progress. Rehearsals are held weekly and the attendance is splendid.
Courier-Journal. Rev. J. V. Logan is a brother of Mrs. Thompson Burnam, and has a host of friends in Richmond.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral of Miss Bessie Park here last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Park, of Nicholasville; Mrs. Nathan Wilson, of Versailles;
Mrs. R. E. Quisenberry, of Simpsonville;
Mrs. H. C. Butler, of Dodge; Mrs. Jesse Edwards, of Corbin; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Park and Mr. William Park, of Nicholasville.

The venerable Judge C. H. Breck, who has been ill for some time, has been taken to the Patti A. Clay Infirmary. We regret to say that he is not improving as rapidly as his friends had hoped for. The bar, according to their usual custom, has sent some handsome flowers to his room and Judge Breck has expressed his heartfelt appreciation for the same. His many friends hope that this beautiful weather, together with the careful attention which he is receiving, will soon restore him to health.

Additional Personals on Page 4

A dollar is nothing to you. Our subscription list is a big thing to us. Hand
us that dollar!

BETWEEN friends, the true spirit of Easter is best expressed by some little remembrance conveying thought fulness and good will.

Your portrait--nothing could be more fitting. Make the appointment today.

THE MCGAUGHEY STUDIO

Main Street
Telephone 52

Additional Personals on Page 4

A dollar is nothing to you. Our subscription list is a big thing to us. Hand
us that dollar!

Additional Personals on Page 4

A dollar is nothing to you. Our subscription list is a big thing to us. Hand
us that dollar!

Additional Personals on Page 4

A dollar is nothing to you. Our subscription list is a big thing to us. Hand
us that dollar!

Additional Personals on Page 4

Fire Insurance Tornado

Telephone 707

BURNAM'S
INSURANCE AGENCYTobacco Insurance

Over Stockton's Drug Store

Personal

Phone 638 or 659 for all personal items.

Mrs. Ruth Gott has been with relatives in Berea.

Mr. John H. Hurst was in Hazard last week on business.

Mr. James A. Wallace, of Irvine, was a visitor in our city Friday.

Little Miss Mary Arnold has been quite sick at her home on High street.

Mr. E. V. Elder has been in New York City for the past days buying goods.

Mrs. Ellen Gibson has been confined to her bed with rheumatism the past week.

Mrs. J. T. Dykes has been very sick with the grippe at her home in Winchester.

Mr. Robert French has been the recent guest of relatives and friends in this city.

Mrs. Nannie McDaniel, of Hamilton, O., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Geo. Marischen.

Miss Marianne Collins is visiting in Tennessee, and will be absent several weeks.

Mr. William Evans attended the Kappa Alpha celebration in Lexington, Saturday night.

Miss Frances Head, of Lagrange, was the weekend guest of Miss Elath Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Soper, of Danville, spent the week-end with relatives in this city.

Mrs. McGregor, of Frankfort, has been the recent guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Crabbe.

Mrs. Sallie West, of Nicholasville, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Perry.

Misses Lillian Bicknell and Edna Early, of Berea, spent the week-end with friends here.

Miss Van Greenleaf was called to Lancaster, last Saturday, on account of the death of her uncle.

Mrs. Alex Denny spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Smith, in Fayette county.

Remember that the times are as hard to us as they are to you. Also remember that we have to pay CASH. Help us with that Dollar.

Mrs. Charles E. Soper visited her mother, Mrs. Emma Logan Hare, in Nicholasville, last week.

Miss Bessie Shugars is at home after a visit to her brother, Mr. W. K. Shugars and family, in Stanford.

Mrs. Addie Gully and two children, of Lexington, have been the guests of her sister, Mrs. George Hale.

Mrs. D. L. Cobb and Mrs. Agnes Patterson have returned home after a visit to relatives in Lexington.

Miss Josephine Barlow, who has been the guest of her aunt, Miss Florence Barlow, in Louisville, has returned.

Miss Ada Williams and Miss Martha Tharp, of Mt. Sterling, spent the week-end with Miss Ruth Tharp, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Kellogg were guests of Mrs. Morgan, in Lexington, for the Flonzaley Concert, Monday evening.

Mrs. W. T. May has returned to her home in Danville, after a visit to her daughters who are attending Normal School here.

Mrs. George Simmons has been in Lexington visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah Frost, and her sister, Mrs. Lena Milward.

Mrs. M. C. Kellogg and daughter, Miss Alice Clark Kellogg, were the weekend guests of Mrs. R. C. Morgan, in Lexington.

Misses Mary O. Covington, Lula Cornelison and Miree McDougle, came up from Louisville and spent Wednesday's birthday at home.

Miss Eliza and Mr. Charles Lackey, of Parksville, have as guest of their niece, Miss Doty, of Richmond, Ky.—Danville Advocate.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Middleton were summoned to Louisville the past week on account of the death of Mrs. Middleton's aunt, Mrs. Shannon.

Dr. J. G. Crabbe, Prof. Greenmeyer, Stott, Dr. E. C. McDougle and Miss Hevler attended the National Educational Association in Cincinnati, the past week.

Mrs. Jeff Johnson and little Miss Emma Hendren and their guest, Miss Emma Hendren, of Richmond, spent last Monday in Danville with Miss Gladys Hendren at the D. & D. Institute.

Mr. Tom Walker, who has been attending the Normal School here, was called to Nicholasville, Saturday, on account of the death of his mother, Mrs. Tom Walker.

Miss Ellen Walker accompanied him to Nicholasville.

Messrs. W. M. Ross and H. E. Beagle have rented a house opposite the L. & N. passenger depot and will open up a produce house. Their advertisement appears in this issue. These gentlemen are wide awake, progressive men, and we are glad to welcome them to our city.

Messrs. John Noland and Carl White were in Richmond last Saturday.... Mrs. J. O. Stevens visited friends in Richmond this week.... Mr. A. B. Kunk, of Richmond, visited the local tribe of Red Men on last Saturday night.... Mr. Robert Chaney, of Richmond, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Chaney.... Attorneys C. C. and D. F. Wallace, of Richmond, were here Monday and Tuesday.—Estill Tribune.

Mrs. George Million, Mrs. J. L. Kanatkar and Mrs. Reuben Tudor, of the county, were pleasant callers at our office Monday, and were shown through the different departments and had the various intricacies of newspaper work fully explained to them. We are always glad to have our friends call and will take pleasure in explaining the making of their home paper.—The Climax-Madisonian.

Miss Tommie Francis has returned to the State Normal School at Richmond after a short visit to her sister, Mrs. A. W. Kavanaugh.... Mr. John Greenleaf and daughter, Miss Van, were called here by the illness and death of his brother, Mr. G. S. Greenleaf.... Judge Jennings Greenleaf and Mr. Burnam, of Richmond, motored to Lancaster, Saturday, for the funeral and burial of the late Mr. G. S. Greenleaf.... Mr. William Wallace, of

THIS Sale commemorates Mr. C.F. Brower's forty-nine years of uninterrupted connection with the Furniture and Carpet business.

YOU can well afford to come from any distance to take advantage of these unusual and genuine savings. Remember Every Price is Reduced.

An Event of the Greatest Importance to Every Home Furnisher and Housewife of Richmond and Central Kentucky will be of Fine Furniture, Floor Coverings, Wall Paper, Draperies and Art Goods.

Brower's 49th Anniversary Sale

SALE STARTS MONDAY MORNING, MARCH FIRST, AT 8 O'CLOCK A. M.Bed Springs.

Our stock of high grade Bed Springs is very complete, everyone of which goes into the 49th Anniversary Sale at substantial Price reductions. A spring worthy of especial mention as being of very unusual value; is made of all metal and equipped with our special National Fabric, and warranted not to sag. A Spring that sells regularly for $5.00. Our Special 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... $3.45

Bed Room Furniture.

Never before have we shown such a truly magnificent stock of Bed Room Furniture, including Suites, Chiffoniers, etc., as will greet you Monday, March 1st. All go at Anniversary Sale Prices.

Dining Room Furniture.

Not a bit less deserving of mention is our handsome showing of Dining Room Furniture—in a good variety of woods and finishes—Tables, Buffets, China Closets, Cellarettes, Serving Tables and Chairs. All at Special Anniversary Sale Prices.

Parlor and Library Furniture

Then when it comes to the furnishing of the Parlor or Library, you'll make a big mistake if you fail to see our splendid stock of Parlor Suites, Library Chairs, Davenport, etc. All at Anniversary Sale Prices.

Wall Papers, Draperies.

Special Reductions on all Wall Papers, Draperies and Upholstering during the month of March.

EXTRA SPECIAL!Folding Card Tables.

Mahogany or Fumed Oak Finish. 30-inch, Square Leatherette Top. A table that is really worth almost double Brower's Special January Clear Sale Price of..... $1.95

Our Entire New Stock is Included in This Sale.

ANNIVERSARY SALE TIME IS AROUND AGAIN—This time it is the Forty-ninth—and every effort has been made to make this one of the greatest events of Genuine Value Giving in High Grade Home Furnishings that Central Kentucky has ever known. We want every person within a radius of fifty miles of Lexington, or more, with a home to furnish, or any one who contemplates furnishing a home within the next six months, to visit our store. You will be under no obligation to buy, and if you find our values irresistible, we will gladly store what you choose until you are ready for it. Besides a large assortment of odds and ends, from our different departments and discontinued lines of furniture disclosed by our inventory just finished, our entire SPRING STOCK, shipments of which are arriving daily, goes into this sale at reductions that will certainly make it well worth your while to investigate.

Come while the choosing is the very best. Come prepared to buy all you need. It is the chance of a life time! Just read a few sample values in this advertisement. Remember there are hundreds of other values, just as good or better, that await you. Tell your friends, especially those lately married. YOU WILL BE CORDIALLY WELCOME.

OUR ENTIRE NEW SPRING STOCK INCLUDED IN THIS SALE.EXTRAORDINARY OFFERINGS IN HIGH GRADE FLOOR COVERINGS.*Room Size Rugs.

9 x 12 Room Size Rugs; beautiful patterns; regular $10.00 values. Brower's Forty-ninth Anniversary Sale Price..... $6.75

Brussels Seamless Rugs.

9 x 12 Seamless Brussels Rugs; regular $12.00 values. Brower's Forty-ninth Anniversary Sale Price..... $7.50

Smith's Axminster Rugs.

9 x 12 Smith Axminster Rugs; pretty patterns. Brower's Forty-ninth Anniversary Sale Price..... $12.50

Fine Axminster Rugs.

9 x 12 Smith Axminster Seamless Rugs; regular $25.00 values. Brower's Forty-ninth Anniversary Sale Price..... $18.00

Velvet Rugs.

9 x 12 Good Quality Velvet Rugs; regular $18.00 values. Brower's Forty-ninth Anniversary Sale Price..... $15.00

Ingrain Carpets.

Ingrain Carpets; good patterns. Brower's 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... 25c per yard

All Ingrain Carpets.

All Ingrain Carpets; the best made; regular 90c per yard value. Brower's Forty-ninth Anniversary Sale Price..... 60c per yard

Tapestry Brussels.

Tapestry Brussels Carpets—stairs to match—Brower's 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... 45c per yard

Extra Quality Brussels.

Extra Quality Tapestry Brussels, borders to match; regular 75c per yard values. Brower's 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... 50c per yard

Velvet Carpets.

Velvet Carpets; good quality. Brower's 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... 75c per yard

Axminster Carpets.

Axminster Carpets—borders to match. Brower's 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... 85c per yard

Large Assortment

Of Fumed Oak Mission Library Chairs and Rockers—Genuine Spanish leather, spring seats and cushioned backs; ranging in price from $17.00 to $18.50 at just Half Price

$8.50 to $9.75

Some Odd Patterns

In Parlor Chairs. Handsome Mahogany, beautifully upholstered. Regular $19.50 values. Special Price to Close Out

$9.75

Handsome Two-Piece

Mahogany Bed Room Suit—Dresser and Chiffonier, regular $117.00 values. For the two pieces. Special Price to Close Out

$88.50

Mahogany Chiffonier

Regular $29.50 Value. SPECIAL PRICE To Close Out

$14.50

Handsome 3-Piece

Mahogany Dining Room Suite—Buffet, China Cabinet and Serving Table. Regular $93.00 value. One of the best bargains we have ever offered. Our Special Closing Out Price

$46.00

Forty-Ninth Anniversary Sale of Iron Beds.

Two-Inch Continuous Post High Grade Iron Beds, with five fillers. Choice of white Enamel or Vernis Martin Finish—either full or three-quarter size. A Big 49th Anniversary Sale Value at..... $3.95

Then we have a Two-Inch Continuous Post Iron Bed, with five upright fillers, either in white enamel or Vernis Martin finish—full or three-quarter size. 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... $5.65

A Year's Subscription To a Magazine Free.

We are very anxious to get our monthly magazine, "Brower's Home Furnisher," in the hands of every person who has anything to do with buying furniture for the home, or who expects to furnish a home in the near future. Brower's Home Furnisher is issued every month, and contains much valuable information regarding furniture styles, Home Furnishings and helps, which makes it a welcome visitor in every home. Send us your name and we will send Magazine one year absolutely free.

Anniversary Sale of Handsome Library Tables.

Handsome Library Tables. Choice of Mahogany and Fumed Oak finishes. Brower's 49th Anniversary Sale Price..... $13.45

Library Tables. Choice of Fumed Oak and Golden Finishes. Each table has nice size drawers. Brower's Forty-ninth Anniversary Special sale Price..... $12.95

The remainder of our stock of Library Tables at like reductions.

C. F. BROWER & CO.

(INCORPORATED.)

The : Quality : Home : Furnishing : House : of : Central : Kentucky, Main and Broadway, LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

SUFFERED 15 YEARS, CURD IN 21 DAYS.

Astonishing Cures Made By This Remarkable New Discovery.

Gentlemen: For some fifteen years I was afflicted with eczema, covering my arms, legs and face. I suffered so much distress that I could not sleep. My face was red and swollen, and covered with dry, feverish scales. I was unable to attend to business for weeks at a time. I had about given up all hope when I tried your remedy, Amolox. The first application gave me relief so I could sleep. After applying it for several days I was able to attend to business. After thirty days my eczema entirely disappeared.

"I Don't Feel Good"
That is what a lot of people tell us. Usually their bowels only need cleaning. Jexall Orderlies will do the trick and make you feel fine. We know this positively. Take one tonight. Sold only by us, 10 cents. Henry L. Perry.

James R. Rigby, Youngstown, Ohio.

Amolox is the prescription of a physician who used it with wonderful success in his private practice. Now, for the first time offered for sale by the leading druggists.

Amolox Ointment will quickly banish pimples on the face, blackheads, and all minor skin troubles. Chronic cases of Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter, that have suffered for years, require both the Ointment and Solution to effect a cure. Trial size, 50c. Guaranteed and recommended by Henry L. Perry, the druggist. adv

Largest line of Trunks and Valises at Stouffer's. 13-14

Berea's Work Praised by President Wilson.

At a meeting in Washington last Wednesday night, President Wilson praised the "simple straightforward" people of the Southern mountains. He declared that the college was "going straight to the heart of one of the most interesting problems of American life." Justice Hughes, of the Supreme Court, presided at the meeting and President Frost, of Berea College, was among the speakers of the evening.

For hoarseness, inflamed lungs or irritating coughs, BALLARD'S HORE HOUND SYLUP is a healing balm. It does its work quickly and thoroughly. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Madison Drug Co. adv. mar.

Fires.

The best house near the L. & N. Railroad track caught fire early Tuesday morning and the alarm was sounded, to which the fire department promptly responded and supposed that they had extinguished the flames. Friday morning they were again called to the same place and this time succeeded in putting it out.

Best Treatment for Constipation

"My daughter used Chamberlain's Tablets for constipation with good results and I can recommend them highly," writes Paul B. Babin, Brushy, La. For sale by all dealers. adv. mar.

How to Treat Croup Externally

Rub Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve well over the throat and chest for a few minutes—then cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so that the soothing medicated vapors arising may loosen the choking plugs and ease the difficult breathing. One application at bedtime insures against a night attack. 25c, 50c, or $1.00. At druggists. VICK'S CROUP AND PNEUMONIA SALVE

Always The Best.

M. M. Hamilton, who always has the best in the beef line, authorizes us to say to the people of this city that he has purchased some of the finest beef cattle to be found in the county—regular export beefs, which he is slaughtering for his exclusive trade. His large experience enables him to know "what is what" in cattle and he knows when and how to buy. 3-11

For Sale.
Pure-bred Jersey cow, six years old; a splendid milkor. C. S. Cotton, 420 W. Main street. Phone 472. 6-11
If you have news items, call 659 and tell our Stenographer.

RUNAWAY JUNE

SIXTH EPISODE.

The Siege of the House of O'Keefe

CHAPTER I.

A PLATOON of the finest wheeled out of the station house and down Deshler street, their brass buttons gleaming in the light of the sunset. Opposite the little fountain of the Cupid with the clipped nose and in front of Tim Courky's saloon the platoon halted and saluted the bent and twisted Widow O'Keefe, standing on her doorstep. Had not the veteran Dan O'Keefe been the most popular man on the force? In all his life Dan had never made an arrest of his own beat or on if he could help it, he would trouble for a brother officer or refused to lie for his friends.

Out of the third story window leaned a pair of gleaming guns, surrounding which was the pleasing, high cheeked face of the one who was known solely as Marie. Sergeant Clancy stepped across to convey the time of day to the Widow O'Keefe. Sammy O'Keefe, a fine, tall boy with a curly head, came to the door and gripped the hand of Sergeant Clancy with the grip of a man.

Suddenly the red gummed young woman in the window brightened until she glistened and waved a red handkerchief. The Widow O'Keefe put twenty additional wrinkles of joyous welcome in her countenance, young Sammy O'Keefe straightened a full inch and plinked with pleasure. Ser-

"It's a fine evenin'!"

gent Clancy and the platoon of the finest saluted and looked their rough goodnight, and the last ray of the setting sun shot across on the cracked nose Cupid and reddened him into life.

A beautiful young girl had come hurrying down from the corner, her fur cap set jauntily on her wavy brown hair and a green tassel dangling over one ear. She slackened her pace as she came in sight of all these friends and breathed a sigh of relief. She was safe here. And as if to reassure herself she glanced back over her shoulder. That had become a habit with her of late. The look of worry swept instantly from her brow as her eyes turned shyly up to the stalwart platoon. A friendly nod and a radiant smile for each of the big policemen, a word of inquiry for Pat Casey's little Maggie, a wave of the trimly gloved hand to Marie in the window, a sudden flash of mischief as she primly returned the salute of Sergeant Clancy, a pat on the hand of Widow O'Keefe, a touch of silvery laughter for Sammy, and she had hurried up the stairs.

"She's the sunshine of the precinct, the darlin'," declared the Widow O'Keefe. "She's a lady!" announced Sergeant Clancy with deep conviction. "I'll tell you something," the widow inclined her head confidentially. So did Sergeant Clancy. So did Sammy's little Maggie. "She's hidin' from some one. God bless her!"

"Oh, is she?" And the officer of the law glanced up at the third story window. It was vacant. "Whoever it is, they're no good." And the Widow O'Keefe collected all her wrinkles about her lips. "She's safe here," asserted Sergeant Clancy and, with a grin, jerked his thumb over his shoulder toward the stalwart platoon. She in the midst of her friends. "Good evenin', Sam!" O'Keefe. "Good evenin', Sam!"

He strode across the street. "Boys," said he, "our little friend up yonder don't want to be found. Neither does our friend Marie."

As one man the platoon glanced up at the vacant third floor window and nodded, and at the word of command they faced left and marched. Then, and not until then, Officer Morgan and Officer Toole, the pair in front, dropped out of the ranks and stood at attention while the platoon passed between them and when the platoon had turned the corner they wheeled. Side by side they marched into Tim Courky's saloon.

"Good evenin', boys. And what can I do for you?" asked Tim Courky. "A glass of winter, Tim," said Moran. "The same for me, Tim," said Officer Toole.

"It's a fine evenin'," said Tim Courky, and on the bar he set a large glass of foaming yellow water for Officer Moran and a small glass of rich brown water for Officer Toole.

Marie at that moment was brushing the shining hair of her beautiful young mistress, and both were happy in that occupation.

Poor, dear Ned! How June did long for him! But he would be patient, as she must. There would be time, far happier when, earning her own living, she could go to him independently, exchanging love for love, not love for charity.

Ned Warner at that moment was approaching the little cracked Cupid of the fountain, and as he came down angling Duck alley his mind was in a whirl of savage fury. Gilbert Blise Everywhere that Ned or his detectives had found a trace of June they had found a trace of Blise. Even now the scoundrel was in this vicinity searching for June. Or was he? Ned Warner following to join her? Ned Warner clinched his fists, and his face blackened with passion.

And Blise? He was only a few rods away. He was coming down diagonal Deshler street, and he was at about the same distance from the side of Tim Courky's saloon as was Ned on Duck alley. From her third story window the O'Keefe house June happened to glance out. In the gathering dusk she saw the two figures steadily approaching the corner, where they would meet under the light; then as Ned Warner's deadly clutch gripped around the throat of Gilbert Blise she would be able to recognize their upturned faces.

It was then that Officer Moran and Officer Toole made a pleasant evening to Tim Courky and strode side by side out of the door in the point of the wedge just as Ned Warner and Gilbert Blise approached the light. Ned Warner with murder in his heart and Gilbert Blise all unconscious of his peril, and Officer Moran turned left, and Officer Toole turned right.

"Have you seen a girl wearing a fur cap with a green tassel?" asked Ned Warner and Gilbert Blise almost simultaneously of Officer Moran and Officer Toole.

"I did," Officer Moran replied. "She was here only a few minutes ago and dropped a letter in a box."

"Does she live down this way?" asked Ned.

"Never saw her before," Officer Moran impressed Ned's features on his memory. "I think she took an uptown car."

He hurried away.

Officer Toole was not quite so quick in his mind, because he was more elaborate. He held a thick forefinger in the deep dimple of his chin.

"A girl with a fur cap and a green tassel over one ear," he repeated, making the normal gesture for the tassel, as the black Vandyked man had done.

"Oh, yes, a girl with a green tassel over one ear! Yes, there was a girl with a red tassel over her ear playin' shiny here this mornin', but she was a little girl, Pat Casey's Maggie. And there was a girl with a blue tassel down here yesterday workin' for an orphan's benefit." All this by way of assembling his mind while he studied Gilbert Blise whisker by whisker. "But the girl with the green tassel—rather a small young lady, round like, and a pretty face, with a smile!"

"Yes," Blise was all eagerness.

Blise looked up the street to where, against the hill, Officer Morrisey stood, gaunt and stiff, handling his tangle of dry traffic.

"Thank you," And Blise struck out for Officer Morrisey.

That busy person scarcely looked at the man with the black Vandyke; just one roll of his gray eye.

"No!"

"Oh!" Mr. Blise was very much disappointed. "The officer below said that he had seen such a girl talking to you."

"Yes, I remember. She asked me the time of day, and she handed over this way."

"Over this way" was at right angles to Blise's previous course. By the time he reached Traffic Officer Schmelz Patrolman O'Malley had carried the word to that corner from Officer Toole, so that Schmelz was prepared for the coming of Blise, and by the time Blise got away from Schmelz the word was all through the district.

"Have you seen a girl wearing a fur cap with a green tassel over one ear?" Gilbert Blise had asked this question of fourteen policemen. Something struck him as familiar in the way this one held a thick forefinger in the deep dimple of his chin. It was Officer Toole again.

"Sure," said Officer Toole, with remarkable promptness. "She went by here not a minute ago. Right that way." And he pointed up the hill to ward Officer Morrisey; then as Blise started off, panting, he held his side "on, well, it was dull times on the beat these nights!"

The dusk had deepened into darkness when Officer Moran's palm proved not broad enough to carry away the grin from under his yellow mustache, and the grin, escaping, broadened into a huge laugh.

Blise stood it with remarkable quietness.

"It seems to me I've been furnishing a little amusement for the boys," he murmured, frowning.

"You have," laughed Moran. "It's what in Scotland they call 'chasing the gowk.' As for the girl you mentioned, and he swung his club happily, "I don't suppose one of us has ever laid eyes on her."

Blise's black eyes dwelt on Moran piercingly; then his suave smile came. "Have a cigar." And he passed over one which Officer Moran kept for Christmas.

Blise stopped smiling as he walked away.

and his eyes narrowed in concentrated thought. He stroked his black Vandyke with his long, lean, white fingers. They had had their job with him, these thick policemen, but without knowing that they were doing so they had convinced him of one thing—that June lived in this vicinity and that they all knew of her.

It was passing the corners as he arrived at this uncertainty. The corners were a tangled knot of street and alley intersections where one might angle off in almost any direction and go nowhere.

Ned Warner at that moment was sending a score of detectives into this neighborhood.

Tired and half famished, Blise ate his delayed dinner in company with the gracious brunette Tommy Thomas and the white mustached, pink faced Orin Cunningham and with a heavy, silent, thick eyelid man who wore short cropped hair on his big round head.

Tommy and Cunningham and Blise sat for some time together after the big man had left. They were evidently planning something.

Finally all three went out and stepped into Blise's luxurious limousine. Before they had gone very far Blise, sitting by the girl, leaned toward her and began talking to her in low tones. By and by the trace of a smile came to her lips.

In a tastefully furnished drawing room a kindly looking woman held the bubbling Tommy's hand between both her hands while they talked. There were both sadness and loneliness in Mrs. Villard as she drew Tommy to a seat on the couch beside her, but she had spirit, too, for she displayed a most eager interest in the beautiful portrait of June Warner, which presently peered up at her from inside the lid of June's little gold watch.

When Tommy rebuked the men in the brilliantly lighted limousine she handed Blise June's watch with a triumphant laugh.

CHAPTER II.

JUNE, busy with her own thoughts, did not notice the closed cab which stood at the corner the next morning as she left the house. As she passed by, however, walking briskly up to the surface car, Officer Mack, who had been watching that cab and the handsome brunet whose vivacious face had occasionally appeared at the windows, saw the cab start and slowly move away.

June had stepped from her uptown car and was crossing to Broadway when a closed cab passed her, turned and drew up from the opposite direction, and a gloved hand tapped on the window. Tommy Thomas, the girl to whom Gilbert Blise had introduced her!

"Which way, pretty maid?" Tommy's glowing face protruded from the door of the cab.

"To the employment office, kind lady," she laughed, and June exhibited her little address slip.

The two girls laughed together as they drove away, but at the next corner Tommy excused herself for a moment and ran into a drug store to telephone. Tommy hurried out and returned to her place in the cab with June, but Mrs. Villard, to whom she had phoned, remained at the telephone and called up another number.

When June walked into the Acme Employment bureau, having chosen a new one, quite naturally, since the old one had sent her to a gambling house, she found a new address ready for her. A lady wanted a companion.

Her eyes widened with pleasure as she saw the beauty of Mrs. Villard's home. It was scarcely visible from the street, set back of and below a tangled confusion of shrubbery and trees. Before it rolled the broad, smooth Hudson. Her timidity was set entirely at rest when in the cozy parlor just back of the stiff drawing room she met the kindly faced Mrs. Villard.

Companion? She was not to be a companion to this charming and sweet and yet sometimes sad lady. She was to be a friend, a sister, a daughter. They knew that much in the first three minutes of their conversation, and then Mrs. Villard took June up to a wonderful bedroom which had once been a child's, upon the walls of which were peacocks and roosters and gnomes and elves.

It was visiting day among the Villard cottages and the cottages between which were not Villard cottages, and June had the joy once more of giving, mingled with the sorrow that there was need.

It was late when they arrived at the cottage of the Groggs, and as they entered the front door Mr. Grogg came up from the lower road and entered the back door, fully ten feet behind his breath. He was a red faced man with no head in his countenance whatsoever. Knew cars and all, he was the same that of red from where his neck rose out of his sprawling collar to where his low forehead disappeared in his sprawling yellow hair.

"D'afternoon, Indies," observed Mr. Grogg cheerfully and bowed his smile in the direction of the severe eyed Mrs. Villard and the shocked June. "Brought you a little present, Louz, and, with as much extravagant importance as if this had been the rajah's jewel, he bestowed on Mrs. Grogg the pocket token of his thoughtfulness, a gemstone in a paper match box.

Mrs. Grogg was a thin woman, chiefly distinguished for droopiness and holowness as viewed from almost any direction.

"Al"—the woman's voice concealed a tremor—"can we pay Mrs. Villard anything on the rent today?"

"Why, Al, you didn't give me any money."

The man searched restlessly through all his pockets. He finally discovered a half dollar and a dime.

"Never mind," broke in the soft voice of Mrs. Villard as she saw tears in the eyes of Mrs. Grogg.

Mrs. Villard, who had come to know life in many sordid phases, took June away.

"Have you an evening gown, June, dear?" asked Mrs. Villard in a matter of fact sort of way and eying June solicitously as she made this abrupt change in their subject of thought.

"Yes," drawled June. "I'll get it to-morrow."

"We are to have guests this evening," And Mrs. Villard studied June's height and figure with a calculating eye. "I have a new little dinner dress which I am sure you can wear charmingly. You are to be my family, my dear," she rattled on to cover June's embarrassed half protests. "I want you everywhere with me. We shall have to do some shopping, you and I, one of these days. You like pretty things, don't you?"

"Why, of course," laughed June, and she colored under Mrs. Villard's obvious admiration.

"Then you shall have them. My, what a pleasure it will be to make a dolly out of you, child! We must run right up and dress."

The new little lace dinner frock did become June charmingly, but she was very thoughtful as she sat among the say peacocks and elves and gnomes, very thoughtful and very sad, upon the tiny bench in front of the windows overlooking the broad river. Her brain was seething with new ideas, known edge which had been thrust upon her, sympathies which tugged and pulled at her.

First Mrs. Grogg. June had feared for that forlorn woman, feared for her at this moment, alone down there with that animal who had fallen so far from the image of God. Yet what was there to fear? Mrs. Grogg had endured and was enduring now and would endure again, and when her lord and master happened to be sober and happened to have any money he might give his wife a little of it, might take compassion on her dire poverty and her need.

The keratinous proved that he had a trace of the quality centered in him. It was the same old problem, June's own problem, only in its most sordid form. Dear Ned! There was no comparison, yet it was always the man who owned, the man who gave. The weak could not receive. She could not give because the man possessing her already owned all that she had to offer, even her love.

On the corner of Vnder street and Duck alley was Ned, interviewing a skinny legged girl who snuffed continuously, both while she was snuffing up her stockings and while she was not in her cheek was a wad of gum, and in her eye was all the lively expression found in the eye of a dead fish. Ned Warner dredged for information for two solid minutes and went away, and Officer "Mormon" walked straight over to the stocking puller.

"What did that guy want?" he demanded.

"He was astir' about a girl."

"This party described the girl, didn't he?"

"Uh-huh—sawed off—blond. Say, what is it to you?" And she snuffed away.

Officer Tierman walked back to his post with a troubled brow, and he shook his long, narrow head as he looked after the industrious Ned Warner.

CHAPTER III.

JUNE sprung suddenly from her little bench overlooking the river. Mrs. Grogg and her intolerable position persisted in jumping into June's mind and staying there. The guests had not yet arrived. The impulsive girl hurried down and out of the back door, across the beautiful rear porch and down the winding and twisting little steps toward the Villard cottages. Mrs. Grogg was sitting in the kitchen in stony silence when June arrived there, a silence from which weeping had long since passed.

"Sit down," And Mrs. Grogg gave up the unbroken chair. "Al's sleeping it off."

"I just ran in," observed the girl.

"Yes. Tell Mrs. Villard that if Al gets home with any money tomorrow I'll save her what I can."

"Oh, I didn't come about the rent!" June returned hastily. "I just ran in to see if there was anything I can do."

"No, there's nothing can be done. Al drank before I married him, and he drinks yet."

"Why does he have his own way about it?"

"Because he's my husband. I'm scared of Al when he's drunk."

"And you're not afraid of him when he's sober?"

"Well, no. There don't seem to be anything particular about Al to be scared of."

The horror of drunkenness—that was it.

"I wouldn't be afraid of him!" June suddenly popped out.

The woman looked at her with widened eyes.

The door moved, and Al Grogg appeared in the doorway in his shirt sleeves, collarless, his hair tousled.

"What you got for supper?" he growled.

"Why, Al—I didn't think you'd want any. And the woman's voice was trembling."

"Oh, you didn't think so! Well, I want some supper!"

"Why, Al, I ain't got any money."

"Well, why ain't you? Come here!" His fist went up.

"Al!" A wall of terror was in the voice.

June stepped swiftly from behind the stove and confronted the man, her small fists clenching, her cheeks flaming, her eyes blazing. She glared at him all her contempt and all her loathing and something more—her superiority. The fist which had been whiplashed came slowly down. His shoulders drooped. He was whipped.

Al Grogg's wife watched that transition in him with amazement—the drooping of the eyes, the lowering of the fist, the drooping of the shoulders. And a small young woman in a fluffy evening gown had done this thing!

Smash! A geraldine pot just missed Al Grogg's head and broke on the bedroom door. Bang! Another spraddling geraldine which had split down the center brushed Al's cheek as his pot crashed past.

"Looky here!" Al Grogg's tone was chiefly one of surprise.

Other flowerpots followed from Mrs. Grogg's hands. She had at last discovered that Al Grogg could be made afraid.

June looked at her a moment and then trudged up the hill somewhat frightened at her own responsibility in this domestic upheaval. The guests had arrived when she reached the house. Tommy Thomas! With Tommy was a white mustached, pink faced man. The runaway bride was surprised and puzzled at the appearance of Tommy in this place, but the white mustached man occupied more of her thought. They were finishing dinner when Mrs. Villard called away. The white mustached man monopolized June. Every time she tried to get away from him Tommy Thomas man aged by some accident to throw them together again. June finally left the guests and went to her room. She had decided to go back to the O'Keefe house of refuge.

Closer and closer had gathered the elegs on the house of O'Keefe. Bit by bit, atom by atom, traces had been picked up and dress."

Closer and closer grew the tolls until Marie no longer dared stick her nose out of the window lest some one should report her to Ned or to June's father and mother. But Ned's detectives finally got definite information.

One day a long, lean alinker with cadaverous cheeks came up to Ned from Duck alley and looked up at the O'Keefe residence with solemn interest.

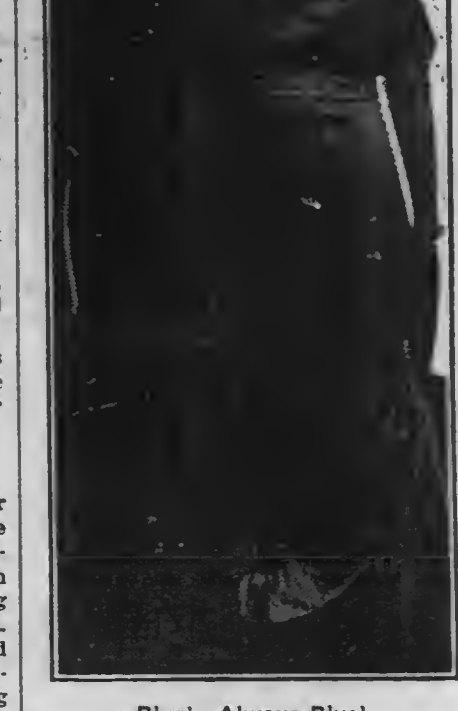

"That's the place," he said.

"Yes, it's the place," Ned Warner's voice was hollow, but there was a jubilant ring in it. "Go and tell Mr. Moore."

The lean individual hurried away and presently came back on the driver seat of a limousine. Inside were the stern faced father and the gentle faced mother of June and June's bosom friend, the ebullient Iris Blethering, and Bobbie Blethering.

"This is the place," said stern John Moore, looking up at the narrow front of the O'Keefe residence, and, stalking out, he belted the others alight.

Sammy O'Keefe came to the door in answer to Ned's ring, and a much

Blise Always Blise

wrinkled face poked itself out of the second story window.

"Does June Warner live here?" asked Ned.

"No, sir."

The head in the second story window was jerked in immediately, and there was a hasty shuffle on the stairs leading to the third floor, a shuffle made by setting up the right foot first and pulling the left one up to it. Also there was a mad scramble to the third floor, while Sammy O'Keefe in the front doorway looked the throng in the eye with admirable truthfulness and swore that there was no June Warner there, no June Moore, no June anything; that there had never been any June in the house except the one between May and July; that there had never been in this house any such young lady as the one who had just been described; that there probably never would be; that he had never seen such a young lady or heard of one expected to or hoped to.

"What's the matter here, Sammy?" the Widow O'Keefe herself asked, panting considerably and holding a much warped hand over her heart, but talking shrilly nevertheless.

"Come, search the house!" she pronounced. "If you find her or her hair of any such two young ladies, one or either of them, I'll go to jail—if you can find an officer to make the arrest. Come on in, all of you!"

Some of them were for holding back, but Ned Warner was perfectly callous as to whether or not he took any one's word or doubted it. He meant to find his wife.

By the circumstance of bringing home a genuine gourd to little Maggie Casey, June came home around by an extremely back way and so missed the searchers.

"Search the cellar, if you please!" mocked the Widow O'Keefe, leading the way. "Maybe you'll look in the kindly bin! And here's the coal chute! Now come on upstairs! Here's the hall that you saw before, and here's my son Sammy, a fine young boy still, and this is the parlor. The organ there, sir, is not hollow, as you can tell by lifting up the lids! Open all the doors and see."

The place was vacant. No one was there. Ned Warner, puzzled and determined, inspected the third floor. No results. The Widow O'Keefe had gathered up all the clothes and belongings and put them in a sheet and poked them into Mrs. McPherson's third story window.

June Warner tripped lightly across the street, let herself in at the Widow O'Keefe's front door and trotted briskly up the stairs. She swung around the curving banister.

"Maybe you'd like to look up the chimneys," suggested the Widow O'Keefe on the third floor.

Ned Warner walked toward the hall door.

June Warner started up to the third floor!

SEE RUNAWAY JUNE AT THE OPERA HOUSE EVERY TUESDAY NIGHT

Just think of a Big Fat Family Letter going to your absent relatives each week. Let us write it for you. $1.00 the year—2 cents a week. A club of ten $7.50.

RHEUMATISM VICTIMS

B. L. Middleton's No-Cure-No-Pay Offer. Attracts Many Sufferers To Test Rheuma.

If Rheuma, the wonderful prescription for rheumatism, sold by B. L. Middleton and all druggists, does not cure any purchaser, the druggist will return your money without any red tape.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease; because of its shifting nature it often strikes the heart and proves fatal. Any one with even a taint of rheumatism ought to drive it out as soon as possible.

Rheumatism is caused by sluggish, worn-out over-worked kidney, which become clogged and fail to eliminate the impurities from the system.

Rheuma acts promptly and directly upon the kidneys; it cleanses them; it absolutely renovates and leaves them in a perfect condition, able to do the work nature intended they should do. Fifty cents a bottle. Adv. mar. 3 10.

If You are troubled with heartburn, gases and a distressed feeling after eating take REXALL Dyspepsia Tablets. Before and after each meal and you will obtain prompt relief. Sold only by us, 25c. Henry L. Perry.

Richmond Politicians Visitors In The City.

H. H. Colyer, of Richmond, who has declared his intention to make the race for the Democratic nomination for the office of State Auditor at the August primary, and John R. Gibson, also of Richmond, a prospective candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer, were in Lexington a short time yesterday. Mr. Colyer, it is said, will make his formal announcement for State Auditor this week. Mr. Gibson is being warmly urged by his friends to enter the race for the office of State Treasurer, and has the matter under consideration.—Lexington Herald.

OLD AND NEW WAY

The Hyomei Remedy For Catarrh, Colds and Croup a Most Valuable Discovery.

The discovery of Hyomei has made a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh, head colds, and similar ailments—simply breathe a medicated air using a small inhaler that comes with every complete outfit.

Hyomei is a combination of antiseptic oils that mixes with the air so that its health-giving medication must go directly to the sore, raw, inflamed lining of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. It almost immediately stops the disagreeable nasal discharges, quickly relieves that choked-up feeling, heals and strengthens the delicate tissues.

The strongest evidence of Hyomei's curative value for catarrh, head colds, asthma, etc., is that your well known druggist, B. L. Middleton, sells it under a guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied. Do not delay treatment for Hyomei is not only harmless, but pleasant to use and nothing to pay if not cured.—Adv. mar. 3 10.

Berea Won.

The Kentucky Christian Endeavor Union will meet at Berea, May 7 and 8, it was decided at a meeting held here by the Executive Committee of the organization, comprising nearly all of the officers of the State body. A committee was appointed to ask the various railroads leading to Berea to grant special transportation rates for delegates secured when the delegates convened at Frankfort last year.

Berea is one of the most central points in the district, which, together with the inducement offered by Berea College, caused the board to select that as the meeting place. It is estimated that about five hundred workers will be present.—The Lexingtonian.

NEW DISCOVERY FOR ECZEMA

Doctors Having Great Success With Amolox.

Amolox is performing wonderful cures after all other remedies have failed. It is the prescription of a well-known physician who has used it in his private practice. For the first time it is now offered to sufferers of skin diseases at leading drug stores. A well known doctor in Youngstown, Ohio, writes: "I have used Amolox in four and chronic cases of skin diseases, all of which showed a marked improvement from the start. Two are entirely cured."

Amolox is a mild, non-irritating, and clear up a mucky complexion. Had chronic cases of eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, tetter, itching for years, acquire both the Amol

ATTENTION

DID YOU GET IT? WE HAVE IT AT THE

John R. Gibson & Company

Richmond, Kentucky

Do you realize that this choice, high grade stock must go and at tremendous low prices until all is completely sold out

A DOLLAR SAVED IS A DOLLAR EARNED

Catarrh of the Head

"Peruna Cured me In Six Weeks."

5,000,000 People In This Country Have Catarrh.

Mr. Tom F. Brady, No. 3 Manhattan St., Rochester, N. Y., writes: "I was troubled with catarrh of the head for many years before I paid much attention to it, but a few months ago I was so annoyed by headaches and difficulty in breathing through my nose, and my eyes smarted and looked so inflamed that I felt I must do something to relieve this state of affairs."

"I noticed one of your ads. in the paper, and then and there decided to try Peruna. I am pleased to say that it came up to all my expectations, for in six weeks it had driven the catarrh out of my system and I have not been troubled since."

Mrs. A. J. Toman, 1122 Wyoming St., San Antonio, Texas, writes: "I suffered over nine years with catarrh of the head, nose and ears. Five bottles of Peruna have restored me my health."

EXPLOITS OF ELAINE

SYNOPSIS.

The New York police are mystified by a series of murders of prominent men. The principal clue to the murderer is the warning letter which is sent to the victims. The latest victim is the mysterious assassin in the Clutching Hand. The latest victim is the mysterious assassin in the Clutching Hand. The latest victim is the mysterious assassin in the Clutching Hand.

FOURTH EPISODE

The Frozen-Safe.

Kennedy swung open the door of our taxicab as we pulled up, safe at last, before the Dodge mansion, after the rescue of Elaine from the brutal machinations of the Clutching Hand. Bennett was on the step of the cab in a moment, and together, one on each side of Elaine, they assisted her out of the car and up the steps to the house.

Elaine's Aunt Josephine was waiting for us in the drawing-room, very much worried. The dear old lady was quite scandalized as Elaine excitedly told of the thrilling events that had just taken place.

"And to think they—actually—carried you!" she exclaimed, horrified, adding, "And I not—"

"But Mr. Kennedy came along and saved me just in time," interrupted Elaine with a smile. "I was well chaperoned!"

Aunt Josephine turned to Craig, gratefully. "How can I ever thank you enough, Mr. Kennedy," she said fervently.

Kennedy was quite embarrassed. With a smile, Elaine perceived his discomfort, not at all displeased by it.

"Come into the library!" she cried gayly, taking his arm. "I've something to show you."

Where the old safe, which had been burnt through, had stood, was now a brand-new safe of the very latest construction and design—one of those globular safes that look and are so formidable.

"Here is the new safe," she pointed out brightly. "It is not only proof against explosives, but between the plates is a lining that is proof against thermite and even that oxyacetylene blowpipe by which you rescued me from the old boiler. It has a time clock, too, that will prevent its being opened at night, even if any one should learn the combination."

"They stood before the safe a moment, and Kennedy examined it closely with much interest.

"Wonderful!" he admired.

"I knew you'd approve of it," cried Elaine, much pleased. "Now I have something else to show you."

She paused at the desk, and from a drawer took out a portfolio of large photographs. They were very handsome photographs of herself.

"Much more wonderful than the safe," remarked Craig earnestly. Then, hesitating and a trifle embarrassed, he added, "May I—may I have one?"

"If you care for it," she said, dropping her eyes, then glancing up at him quickly.

"Care for it?" he repeated. "It will be one of the greatest treasures—"

She slipped the picture quickly into an envelope. "Come," she interrupted. "Aunt Josephine will be wondering where we are. She—she's a demon chaperon."

Bennett, Aunt Josephine and myself were talking earnestly as Elaine and Craig returned.

That morning I had noticed Kennedy fussing some time at the door of our apartment before we went over to the laboratory. As nearly as I could make out he had placed something under the rug at the door out into the hallway.

"Well," said Bennett, glancing at his watch and rising as he turned to Elaine. "I'm afraid I must go now."

He crossed over to where she stood and shook hands. There was no doubt that Bennett was very much smitten by his fair client.

"Good-by, Mr. Bennett," she murmured, and I took you so much for what you have done for me today."

But there was something lifeless about the words. She turned quickly to Craig, who had remained standing.

"Must you go too, Mr. Kennedy?" she asked, noticing his position.

"I'm afraid Mr. Jameson and I must get back on the job before this Clutching Hand gets busy again," he replied reluctantly.

"Oh, I hope you—we get them soon!" she exclaimed, and there was nothing lifeless about the way she gave Craig her hand, as Bennett, he and I left a moment later.

When we approached our door, now, Craig paused. By pressing a little concealed button he caused a panel in the wall outside to loosen, disclosing a small, boxlike plate in the wall underneath.

It was about a foot long and perhaps four inches wide. Through it ran a piece of paper which unrolled from one coil and wound up on another, actuated by clockwork. Across the blank white paper ran an ink line traced by a stylographic pen, used as I had seen in mechanical pencils used in offices, hotels, banks and such places.

Elaine examined the thing with interest.

"What is it?" I asked.

"A new kind of pen," he replied, still gazing carefully at the rolled-up part of the paper. "I have installed it because it registers every footstep on the floor of our apartment. We can't be too careful with this Clutching Hand. I want to know whether we have had any visitors or not in our absence. This straight line indicates that we have not. Wait a moment."

Craig hastily unlocked the door and entered. Inside I could see him pacing up and down our modest quarters.

"Do you see anything, Walter?" he called.

I looked at the kinograph. The pen had started to trace its line, no longer even and straight, but zigzag, at different heights across the paper. He came to the door. "What do you think of it?" he inquired.

"Some idea," I answered enthusiastically.

"We entered and I fell to work on a special Sunday story that I had been forced to neglect. I was not so busy, however, that I did not notice out of the corner of my eye that Kennedy had taken from his cover Elaine Dodge's picture and was gazing at it ravenously."

I had finished as much of the article as I could do then and was smoking and reading it over. Kennedy was still gazing at the picture Miss Dodge had given him, then moving from place to place about the room, evidently wondering where it would look best. I doubt whether he had done another blessed thing since we returned.

He tried it on the mantel. That wouldn't do. At last he held it up beside a picture of Galton, I think, of finger print and eugenics fame, who hung on the wall directly opposite the fireplace. Hastily he compared the two. Elaine's picture was precisely the same size.

Next he tore out the picture of the scientist and threw it carelessly into the fireplace. Then he placed Elaine's picture in its place and hung it up again, standing off to admire it.

I watched him gleefully. Was this Craig? Purposely I moved my elbow suddenly and pushed a book with a bang on the floor. Kennedy actually jumped. I picked up the book with a muttered apology. No, this was not the same old Craig.

Perhaps half an hour later I was still reading. Kennedy was now pacing up and down the room, apparently unable to concentrate his mind on any but one subject.

He stopped a moment before the photograph, looked at it fixedly. Then he started his methodical walk again, hesitated, and went over to the telephone, calling a number which I recognized.

"She must have been pretty well done up by her experience," he said apologetically, catching my eye. "I was wondering if—hello!—oh, Miss Dodge!—er—er—just called up to see if you were all right."

Craig was very much embarrassed, but also, very much in earnest.

A musical laugh rippled over the telephone. "Yes, I'm all right, thank you, Mr. Kennedy—and I put the package you sent me into the safe, but—"

"Package?" frowned Craig. "Why, I sent you no package, Miss Dodge. In the safe?"

"Why, yes, and the safe is all covered with moisture—and so cold."

"Moisture—cold?" he repeated

stupidly.

"Yes, I have been wondering if it is all right. In fact, I was going to call you up, only I was afraid you'd think I was foolish."

"I shall be right over," he answered hastily, clapping the receiver back on its hook. "Walter," he added, seizing his hat and coat, "come on—hurry!"

A few minutes later we drove up in a taxi before the Dodge house and rang the bell.

Jennings admitted us sleepily.

It could not have been long after we left Miss Dodge, late in the afternoon, that Susie Martin, who had been quite worried over our long absence after the attempt to rob her father, dropped in on Elaine. Wide-eyed, she had listened to Elaine's story of what had happened.

"And you think this Clutching Hand has never recovered the incriminating papers that caused him to murder your father?" asked Susie.

Elaine shook her head. "No. Let me show you the new safe I've bought. Mr. Kennedy thinks it wonderful."

"I should think you'd be proud of it," admired Susie. "I must tell father to get one, too."

At that very moment, if they had known it, the Clutching Hand, with his sinister, masked face, was peering at the two girls from the other side of the portieres.

Susie rose to go and Elaine followed her to the door. No sooner had she gone than the Clutching Hand came out from behind the curtains. He gazed about a moment, then, moving over to the safe about which the two girls had been talking, stealthily examined it.

He must have heard someone coming, for with a gesture of hate at the safe itself, as though he personified it, he slung back the curtains again.

Elaine had returned, and as she sat down at the desk to go over some papers which Bennett had left relative to settling up the estate the masked intruder stealthily and silently withdrew.

"A package for you, Miss Dodge," announced Michael later in the evening, as Elaine, in her dainty evening gown, was still engaged in going over the papers. He carried it in his hands rattling gingerly.

"Mr. Kennedy sent it, ma'am. He says it contains clues, and will you please put it in the new safe for him."

Elaine took the package eagerly and examined it. Then she pulled open the little round door of the globular safe.

"It must be getting cold out, Michael," she remarked. "This package is as cold as ice."

"It is, ma'am," answered Michael.

She closed the safe, and with a glance at her watch, set the time lock and went upstairs to her room.

No sooner had Elaine disappeared than Michael appeared again, catlike, through the curtains from the drawing-room, and after a glance about the dimly lighted library, discovering that the coast was clear, motioned to a figure hiding behind the portieres.

A moment and Clutching Hand himself came out.

He moved over to the safe and looked it over. Then he put out his hand and touched it.

"Someone was coming, and they hastily slunk behind the protecting portieres. It was Marie, Elaine's maid. She turned up the lights and went over to the desk for a book for which Elaine had evidently sent her. She paused and appeared to be listening. Then she went to the door.

"Jennings!" she beckoned.

"What is it, Marie?" he replied.

She said nothing, but as he came up the hall led him to the center of the room.

"Listen! I heard sighs and groans!" Jennings looked at her at that moment, puzzled, then laughed. "You girls!" he exclaimed. "I suppose you'll always think the library haunted now."

"But, Jennings, listen," she persisted.

Jennings did listen. Sure enough, there were sounds, weird, uncanny. He gazed about the room. It was eerie. Then he took a few steps toward the safe. Marie put out her hand to it and started back.

"Why, that safe is all covered with cold sweat!" she cried with bated breath.

Sure enough, the face of the safe was beaded with dampness. Jennings put his hand on it and quickly drew it away, leaving a mark on the dampness.

"What do you think of that?" he gasped.

"I'm going to tell Miss Dodge," cried Marie, genuinely frightened.

A moment later she burst into Elaine's room.

"What is the matter, Marie?" asked Elaine, laying down her book. "You look as if you had seen a ghost."

"Ah, but mademoiselle—it ees just like that. The safe—if mademoiselle will come down stairs, I will show it you."

Puzzled, but interested, Elaine followed her. In the library Jennings pointed mutely at the new safe. Elaine approached it. As they stood about, new blades of perspiration, as it were, formed on it. Elaine touched it and also quickly withdrew her hand.

"I can't imagine what's the matter," she said. "But—well—Jennings, von

"A Package for You, Miss Dodge."

may go—and Marie, also."

When the servants had gone she regarded the safe with the same wondering look, then turning out the light, she followed.

She had scarcely disappeared when, from the portiere doorway near by, the Clutching Hand appeared, and, after gazing out at them, took a quick look at the safe.

"Good!" he muttered.

Noislessly Michael of the sinister face moved in and took a position in the center of the room, as if on guard.

She had heard the bell and was coming downstairs as we entered. We three moved toward the library and someone switched on the lights.

Craig strode over to the safe. The cold sweat on it had now turned to icicles. Craig's face clouded with thought as he examined it more closely. There was actually a groaning sound from within.

"It can't be opened," he said to himself. "The time lock is set for tomorrow morning."

Outside, if we had not been so absorbed in the present mystery, we might have seen Michael and the Clutching Hand listening to us. Clutching Hand looked hastily at his watch.

"The deuce!" he muttered under his breath, stifling his suppressed fury. We stood looking at the safe. Kennedy was deeply interested, Elaine standing close beside him. Suddenly he seemed to make up his mind.

"Quick—Elaine!" he cried, taking her arm. "Stand back!"

We all retreated. The safe door, powerful as it was, had actually begun to warp and bend. The plates were bulging. A moment later, with a loud report and concussion, the door blew off.

A blast of cold air and flakes like snow flew out. Papers were scattered on every side.

We stood gazing, aghast, a second, then ran forward. Kennedy quickly examined the safe. He bent down and from the wreck took up a package, now covered with white.

As quickly he dropped it.

"That is the package that was sent," cried Elaine.

Taking it in a table cover, he laid it on the table and opened it. Inside was a peculiar shape flask, open at the top, but like a vacuum bottle.

"A Dewar flask!" ejaculated Craig.

"What is it?" asked Elaine, appealing to him.

"Liquid air!" he answered. "As it evaporated, the terrific pressure of expanded air in the safe increased until it blew out the door. That is what caused the cold sweating and the groans."

We watched him, startled.

On the other side of the portieres Michael and Clutching Hand watched. Then, in the general confusion, Clutching Hand slowly disappeared, felled.

"Where did this package come from?" asked Kennedy of Jennings suspiciously.

Jennings looked blank.

"Why, put in Elaine, 'Michael brought it to me.'"

"Get Michael," ordered Kennedy.

A moment later he returned. "I found him, going upstairs," reported Jennings, leading Michael in.

"Where did you get this package?" shot out Kennedy.

"It was left at the door, sir, by a boy, sir."

Question after question could not shake that simple, stolid sentence. Kennedy frowned.

"You may go," he said finally, as if reserving something for Michael later. A sudden exclamation followed from Elaine as Michael passed down the hall again. She had moved over to the desk, during the questioning, and was leaning against it.

Individually she had touched an envelope. It was addressed, "Craig Kennedy."

Craig tore it open, Elaine bending anxiously over his shoulder, frightened. We read:

"YOU HAVE INTERFERED FOR THE LAST TIME. IT IS THE END."

Beneath it stood the fearsome sign of the Clutching Hand!

The warning of the Clutching Hand had no other effect on Kennedy than the redoubling of his precautions for safety. Nothing further happened that night, however, and the next morning found us early at the laboratory.

It was the late forenoon, when, after a hurried trip down to the office, I rejoined Kennedy at his scientific workshop.

An idea seemed to occur to him. He took the package to the fireplace, removed the screen and laid the package over the andirons with one end pointing out into the room.

Next he took from the cabinet a couple of storage batteries and a coil of wire. Deftly and quickly he fixed them on the package.

Meanwhile, before an alleyway across the street and further down the long block the express wagon had stopped.

Having completed fixing the batteries and wires, Clutching Hand ran the wires along the molding on the wall overhead, from the fireplace unit where it was directly over Elaine's picture. Skillfully he managed to fix the wires, using them in place of the picture wires to support the framed photograph until it hung very noticeably askew on the wall.

The last wire joined, he looked about the room, then noiselessly moved to the window and raised the shade. Quickly he raised his hand and brought the fingers slowly together. It was the sign.

Off in the alley, the express driver and his helper jumped into the wagon and away it rattled.

Jensen was smoking placidly as the wagon pulled up the second time.

"Sorry," said the driver sheepishly, "but we delivered the cabinet to the wrong Mr. Kennedy."

He pulled out the inevitable book to prove it.

"Wall, you bane fine fallers," growled Jensen, puffing like a furnace, in his fury. "You cannot go up again."

"We'll get fired for the mistake," pleaded the helper.

"Just this once," urged the driver, as he rattled some loose change in his pocket. "Here—there goes a whole day's tips."

He handed Jens a dollar in small change.

Still grumpy, but mollified by the silver, Jens let them go up and opened the door to our rooms again. There stood the cabinet, as outwardly innocent as when it came in.

Lugging and tugging they managed to get the heavy piece of furniture out and downstairs again, loading it on the wagon. Then they drove off with it, accompanied by a parting volley from Jensen.

In an unfrequented street, perhaps half a mile away, the wagon stopped. With a keen glance around, the driver and his helper made sure that no one was about.

"Sign here,"

"You fallers-bane a nuisance," protested Jens, signing nevertheless.

Scarcely had the sound of their footfalls died away in the outside hallway when the door of the cabinet slowly opened and a masked face protruded, gazing about the room.

It was the Clutching Hand!

From the cabinet he took a large package wrapped in newspapers. As he held it, looking keenly about, his eye rested on Elaine's picture. A moment he looked at it, then quickly at the fireplace opposite.

An idea seemed to occur to him. He took the package to the fireplace, removed the screen and laid the package over the andirons with one end pointing out into the room.

Next he took from the cabinet a couple of storage batteries and a coil of wire. Deftly and quickly he fixed them on the package.

Meanwhile, before an alleyway across the street and further down the long block the express wagon had stopped.

Having completed fixing the batteries and wires, Clutching Hand ran the wires along the molding on the wall overhead, from the fireplace unit where it was directly over Elaine's picture. Skillfully he managed to fix the wires, using them in place of the picture wires to support the framed photograph until it hung very noticeably askew on the wall.

The last wire joined, he looked about the room, then noiselessly moved to the window and raised the shade. Quickly he raised his hand and brought the fingers slowly together. It was the sign.

Off in the alley, the express driver and his helper jumped into the wagon and away it rattled.

Jensen was smoking placidly as the wagon pulled up the second time.

"Sorry," said the driver sheepishly, "but we delivered the cabinet to the wrong Mr. Kennedy."

He pulled out the inevitable book to prove it.

"Wall, you bane fine fallers," growled Jensen, puffing like a furnace, in his fury. "You cannot go up again."

"We'll get fired for the mistake," pleaded the helper.

"Just this once," urged the driver, as he rattled some loose change in his pocket. "Here—there goes a whole day's tips."

He handed Jens a dollar in small change.

Still grumpy, but mollified by the silver, Jens let them go up and opened the door to our rooms again. There stood the cabinet, as outwardly innocent as when it came in.

Lugging and tugging they managed to get the heavy piece of furniture out and downstairs again, loading it on the wagon. Then they drove off with it, accompanied by a parting volley from Jensen.

In an unfrequented street, perhaps half a mile away, the wagon stopped. With a keen glance around, the driver and his helper made sure that no one was about.

"Sign here,"

"You fallers-bane a nuisance," protested Jens, signing nevertheless.

Scarcely had the sound of their footfalls died away in the outside hallway when the door of the cabinet slowly opened and a masked face protruded, gazing about the room.

It was the Clutching Hand!

From the cabinet he took a large package wrapped in newspapers. As he held it, looking keenly about, his eye rested on Elaine's picture. A moment he looked at it, then quickly at the fireplace opposite.

An idea seemed to occur to him. He took the package to the fireplace, removed the screen and laid the package over the andirons with one end pointing out into the room.

Next he took from the cabinet a couple of storage batteries and a coil of wire. Deftly and quickly he fixed them on the package.

Meanwhile, before an alleyway across the street and further down the long block the express wagon had stopped.

Having completed fixing the batteries and wires, Clutching Hand ran the wires along the molding on the wall overhead, from the fireplace unit where it was directly over Elaine's picture. Skillfully he managed to fix the wires, using them in place of the picture wires to support the framed photograph until it hung very noticeably askew on the wall.

The last wire joined, he looked about the room, then noiselessly moved to the window and raised the shade. Quickly he raised his hand and brought the fingers slowly together. It was the sign.

Off in the alley, the express driver and his helper jumped into the wagon and away it rattled.

Jensen was smoking placidly as the wagon pulled up the second time.

"Sorry," said the driver sheepishly, "but we delivered the cabinet to the wrong Mr. Kennedy."

He pulled out the inevitable book to prove it.

"Wall, you bane fine fallers," growled Jensen, puffing like a furnace, in his fury. "You cannot go up again."

"We'll get fired for the mistake," pleaded the helper.

"Just this once," urged the driver, as he rattled some loose change in his pocket. "Here—there goes a whole day's tips."

He handed Jens a dollar in small change.

Still grumpy, but mollified by the silver, Jens let them go up and opened the door to our rooms again. There stood the cabinet, as outwardly innocent as when it came in.

Lugging and tugging they managed to get the heavy piece of furniture out and downstairs again, loading it on the wagon. Then they drove off with it, accompanied by a parting volley from Jensen.

In an unfrequented street, perhaps half a mile away, the wagon stopped. With a keen glance around, the driver and his helper made sure that no one was about.

"Sign here,"

"You fallers-bane a nuisance," protested Jens, signing nevertheless.

Scarcely had the sound of their footfalls died away in the outside hallway when the door of the cabinet slowly opened and a masked face protruded, gazing about the room.

It was the Clutching Hand!

From the cabinet he took a large package wrapped in newspapers. As he held it, looking keenly about, his eye rested on Elaine's picture. A moment he looked at it, then quickly at the fireplace opposite.

An idea seemed to occur to him. He took the package to the fireplace, removed the screen and laid the package over the andirons with one end pointing out into the room.

Next he took from the cabinet a couple of storage batteries and a coil of wire. Deftly and quickly he fixed them on the package.

Meanwhile, before an alleyway across the street and further down the long block the express wagon had stopped.

Having completed fixing the batteries and wires, Clutching Hand ran the wires along the molding on the wall overhead, from the fireplace unit where it was directly over Elaine's picture. Skillfully he managed to fix the wires, using them in place of the picture wires to support the framed photograph until it hung very noticeably askew on the wall.

The last wire joined, he looked about the room, then noiselessly moved to the window and raised the shade. Quickly he raised his hand and brought the fingers slowly together. It was the sign.

Off in the alley, the express driver and his helper jumped into the wagon and away it rattled.

Jensen was smoking placidly as the wagon pulled up the second time.

"Sorry," said the driver sheepishly, "but we delivered the cabinet to the wrong Mr. Kennedy."

He pulled out the inevitable book to prove it.

"Wall, you bane fine fallers," growled Jensen, puffing like a furnace, in his fury. "You cannot go up again."

"We'll get fired for the mistake," pleaded the helper.

"Just this once," urged the driver, as he rattled some loose change in his pocket. "Here—there goes a whole day's tips."

He handed Jens a dollar in small change.

Still grumpy, but mollified by the silver, Jens let them go up and opened the door to our rooms again. There stood the cabinet, as outwardly innocent as when it came in.

Lugging and tugging they managed to get the heavy piece of furniture out and downstairs again, loading it on the wagon. Then they drove off with it, accompanied by a parting volley from Jensen.

In an unfrequented street, perhaps half a mile away, the wagon stopped. With a keen glance around, the driver and his helper made sure that no one was about.

"Sign here,"

"You fallers-bane a nuisance," protested Jens, signing nevertheless.

Scarcely had the sound of their footfalls died away in the outside hallway when the door of the cabinet slowly opened and a masked face protruded, gazing about the room.

It was the Clutching Hand!

From the cabinet he took a large package wrapped in newspapers. As he held it, looking keenly about, his eye rested on Elaine's picture. A moment he looked at it, then quickly at the fireplace opposite.

An idea seemed to occur to him. He took the package to the fireplace, removed the screen and laid the package over the andirons with one end pointing out into the room.

Next he took from the cabinet a couple of storage batteries and a coil of wire. Deftly and quickly he fixed them on the package.

Meanwhile, before an alleyway across the street and further down the long block the express wagon had stopped.

Having completed fixing the batteries and wires, Clutching Hand ran the wires along the molding on the wall overhead, from the fireplace unit where it was directly over Elaine's picture. Skillfully he managed to fix the wires, using them in place of the picture wires to support the framed photograph until it hung very noticeably askew on the wall.

The last wire joined, he looked about the room, then noiselessly moved to the window and raised the shade. Quickly he raised his hand and brought the fingers slowly together. It was the sign.

Off in the alley, the express driver and his helper jumped into the wagon and away it rattled.

Jensen was smoking placidly as the wagon pulled up the second time.

"Sorry," said the driver sheepishly, "but we delivered the cabinet to the wrong Mr. Kennedy."

He pulled out the inevitable book to prove it.

"Wall, you bane fine fallers," growled Jensen, puffing like a furnace, in his fury. "You cannot go up again."

"We'll get fired for the mistake," pleaded the helper.

"Just this once," urged the driver, as he rattled some loose change in his pocket. "Here—there goes a whole day's tips."

He handed Jens a dollar in small change.

Still grumpy, but mollified by the silver, Jens let them go up and opened the door to our rooms again. There stood the cabinet, as outwardly innocent as when it came in.

Lugging and tugging they managed to get the heavy piece of furniture out and downstairs again, loading it on the wagon. Then they drove off with it, accompanied by a parting volley

What does the Future mean to you?

The Saving of Your Money means independence and happiness. Let your money help you earn more money. We pay 4 per cent on TIME DEPOSITS and SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Berea Bank & Trust Co.
Berea, Kentucky

VICK'S Croup and SALVE
Pneumonia

GET A KIT OF GOOD TOOLS; YOU CAN DO BETTER WORK.

WE SELL NONE BUT THE BEST TOOLS MADE; AND WE "KNOW" WHICH THE "BEST" TOOLS ARE. WE HAVE BEEN IN THIS BUSINESS A LONG TIME; WE HAVE THE KNOWLEDGE ABOUT WHAT TO BUY AND THE "MONEY" TO BUY IT. BUY YOUR TOOLS AND HARDWARE FROM US JUST ONCE AND YOU WILL LEARN THAT OUR HARDWARE STORE IS THE ONE FOR YOU.

DOUGLAS & SIMMONS

I WANT A CAR LOAD OF CHICKENS

Every week. Highest market price for Chickens, Eggs, Furs, Hides and all kinds of Junk. Before you sell phone

M. WIDES

CORNER MAIN AND ORCHARD STREETS

RICHMOND Phone 363 and 297 KENTUCKY

Ship Your Tobacco To 9th Street House
LOUISVILLE, KY

Drugs-- Should Be Pure and Fresh

We HAVE them. We deliver anywhere in the city and QUICKLY, too

Call No. 80 and give us a trial

Madison Drug Company

First and Main Streets

WE TREAT YOU RIGHT

Pure Drugs and Medicines, Toilet Articles, Window Glass, Paints and Varnishes

FARM FOR RENT

The Moberley farm located on the Otter Creek pike adjoining the city limits of Richmond, containing

157 Acres

About 110 acres of bluegrass, 10 acres of tobacco land, and 18 acres of wheat. The improvements consist of a seven room brick residence, tobacco barn, stock barn good tenant house and other necessary outbuildings

SECURITY TRUST CO., Lexington, Ky

A Legally GUARANTEED CURE for Hog Cholera

Think of it, Mr. Farmer, here's a remedy for hog cholera that is sold under a "Legal Guarantee Bond." How can you afford to take chances against hog cholera when you can get this remedy on such terms?

It is the only remedy ever put up that is guaranteed to cure and prevent hog cholera. It does the work better than any other known remedy. It is sold under a "Legal Guarantee Bond." How can you afford to take chances against hog cholera when you can get this remedy on such terms?

Sold by Perry's Drug Store, Richmond, Ky

HOW A DEEP SEATED COUGH

And Sore Lungs Were Overcome by Vinol—Mr. Hillman's Statement of Facts Follows:

Camden, N. J.—"I had a deep seated cough, a run-down system and my lungs were awfully weak and sore. I am an electrician by occupation and my cough kept me awake nights so I thought at times I would have to give up. I tried everything everybody suggested and had taken so much medicine I was disgusted.

"One evening I read about Vinol and decided to give it a trial. Soon I noticed an improvement. I kept on taking it and today I am a well man. The soreness is all gone from my lungs. I do not have any cough and have gained fifteen pounds in weight and I am telling my friends that Vinol did it."—FRANK HILLMAN, Camden, N. J.

It is the curative, tissue-building influence of cod's livers aided by the blood-purifying, strength creating properties of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, that made it so successful in Mr. Hillman's case.

We ask every person in this vicinity suffering from weak lungs, chronic coughs, or a run-down condition of the system to try a bottle of Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if it fails to help you.

B. L. MIDDLETON, DRUGGIST

OUR NEIGHBORS.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Col. W. P. W. Walton, of Lexington, has sold ten shares of stock in the National Bank of Hustonville, in Lincoln county, to a Virginia party at $150 per share.

Harve Hopkins and Jack Leisure were captured at Brodhead and brought to the Lincoln jail, charged with burglarizing the store of J. T. Cherry, at Crab Orchard.

Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Rowan Saxley, of Stanford, and Deputy U. S. Marshal Chas. Winfrey made a raid on a negro settlement near Stanford last week and captured negroes who were charged with selling whisky without U. S. license.

Jesse D. Wearon, of Stanford, has announced his candidacy for the office of circuit clerk of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

GARRARD COUNTY.

Last Monday was court day at Lancaster and a large crowd was in attendance, notwithstanding the farmers were busy plowing. A good many mules were on the market.

I. B. Shepherd, of Paint Lick, has purchased the 65-acre farm of Miss Lucy Bird for $5,000.

Mr. Samuel Davis died at his home in Lancaster Monday night last from a paralytic stroke. He was a partner with his father, W. C. Davis, in the tailoring business until recently his health gave way. He was buried in the Somerset cemetery Thursday.

The Queen City has thrown open its doors this week to 3,000 school superintendents from all parts of the United States, drawn there by the Educational Association. Prof. M. L. Caner, our local superintendent of schools, who is always interested in educational work, left Tuesday morning to attend this meeting and will remain the remainder of the week.—Lancaster Record.

BOURBON COUNTY.

Mr. Thos. Herrin, aged 72 years, committed suicide at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Farris, near Paris, last Monday afternoon. Mr. Herrin put a shotgun on a small table, stretched out on his bed and pulled the trigger with his cane, the full charge entering his heart, death resulting immediately. He is survived by his wife and seven children.

J. J. Williams, of Paris, has filed suit for the State Banking Commissioner against the directors of the defunct Alexander Bank for $104,000, which represents the principal and interest of notes the Banking Commissioner charges were used for the sole benefit of Geo. Alexander.

BOYLE COUNTY.

Frightened at the sight of the first train he had ever seen, Geo. Mason, who lives in the cliffs north of High Bridge, on the Kentucky river, threw a stone at the Royal Palm fast flyer on the Q. & C. last Monday. The missile broke a window and hit Ray Fagan, of Sandusky, Ohio. Mason declares that he had never before seen a train and "thought the thing was some sort of a big varmint."

Dr. Richard Harlan, of Toronto, Can., is being mentioned as a favorite for the presidency Centre College. He is a son of the late Chief Justice John M. Harlan, and is one of the ablest men in the country.

CLARK COUNTY.

Last Monday was county court day at Winchester and a large crowd attended. While there were no cattle sales on account of the foot and mouth disease, trade was good in other lines. The record price of the season was made when Mr. Bruce sold to Jesse Tudor, of this county, a pair of fine mules for $325.00. Mr. Tudor is a prosperous young farmer of the Jolly Ridge section.

Recapitulation of the Assessor's books in Clark shows an increase of $300,000 over that of last year.

FAYETTE COUNTY.

Lexington has extended an invitation to President Wilson to visit that city on his return from the San Francisco Exposition. The invitation was extended him by Senator Ollie M. James and Congressman Cantrell.

The Fayette county fiscal court has made an appropriation of the $3,000 required by the State law as its part in erecting a tuberculosis sanitarium in the suburbs of Lexington.

The Board of Commerce has decided to have a Spring Style Show for Lexington the week of March 22-27.

Len D. Price, proprietor of a Pony Farm near Lexington, had the misfortune to fall a few weeks ago and broke his right leg, causing a compound fracture. Last Saturday his leg was amputated and he is now doing well.

JESSAMINE COUNTY.

Wm. Scott, of Jessamine, sold his crop of 6,000 pounds of tobacco last week in Danville at the Danville Tobacco Warehouse at an average of $23.47 per hundred.

The Jessamine News says there are over $7,000,000 on deposit in the Lexington banks. The Nicholasville banks are in better condition than for years and the clouds of depression are rapidly clearing up.

MERCER COUNTY.

Mrs. A. M. Judd has brought suit against the Southern Railway for $35,000 damages for the death of her husband, Capt. Judd, while in the employ of the company.

Mr. Collins Sumrall, of Harrodsburg, was appointed by Gov. McCreary as one of the delegates from Kentucky to the Emergency Peace Federation, which met in Chicago Saturday and Sunday. There were six delegates appointed to represent this State.

ESTILL COUNTY.

The old Wilson homestead, situated about three miles west of Irvine, burned last Friday night, entailing a loss of about $3,000. It is among the oldest residences in the county, being something like 120 years old. The property was not insured.

The examining trial for the slayers of Underwood was held last Tuesday morning. Some 25 witnesses were used in the trial. Wallace and Chaney were held over on a bond of $1,000 each and Hynes' bond was fixed at $500.

John Bengt has been commissioned by Gov. James B. McCreary to serve out the unexpired term of C. C. Isaacs as magistrate of Red Lick and was sworn in last Saturday. Mr. Isaacs has moved from the district.

The Christian church at Irvine has called Rev. B. W. Bass, of Lexington, as pastor of that church.

Judge Newton, of Irvine, has received several mysterious letters, written in a disguised hand and unsigned. These letters say: "We as citizens want you to give us a clean deal. Your office is at stake."

One Rub in Time Saves Nine.

Don't wait until your hair is gone, but keep all you have if possible. We recommend Meritol Hair Tonic as a reliable preparation for keeping the scalp clean and healthy condition and promoting hair growth. It is a preparation of genuine meriol, one we are pleased to guarantee to you. Price 50c and $1. Madison Drug Company, Exclusive Agents.—Adv. mar.

HERBINE cures constipation and establishes regular bowel movement. Price 50c. Sold by Madison Drug Co. adv. mar.

Robert Jones Badly Mangled.

A special to the Courier-Journal from this city says: "A fit of epilepsy may have been the cause of the accident to Robt. C. Jones, if not his death. According to the engineer and fireman of train No. 33, Jones was at the time a trespasser on the railroad company's property, having taken a position between the mail coach and the engine tender for the purpose, it is alleged, of stealing a ride. While so located it is said he had an epileptic fit and fell to the ground with his right arm across the rail. The member was so badly mangled that amputation was necessary, after he had been brought to a Richmond hospital."

A good treatment for a cold settled in the lungs is a HERRIN'S RED PEP-PEP-POUR PLASTER applied to the chest to draw out inflammation, and BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP to relieve tightness. You get the two remedies for the price of one by buying the dollar size Horehound Syrup; there is a porous plaster free with each bottle. Sold by Madison Drug Co. adv. mar.

According to H. Green Garrett, State Railroad Commissioner and the general manager of the big Brodhead-Garrett lumber interests in the Kentucky mountains, the new mill at Lombard will be the largest ever constructed in that region. The company will use this mill to cut up the 50,000,000 feet of timber recently purchased at the head of Red river.

Why So Many Feel Tired.

"Spring fever" usually is the result of sluggish bowels and torpid liver. After months indoors, you are not likely to feel vigorous and sprightly. Foley's Cathartic Tablets are "worth their weight in gold" for that over-full feeling, biliousness, gas on the stomach, bad breath, indigestion or constipation. Their action is quick, comfortable and complete—without nausea or griping. Stout people say they are a blessing. Sold every where. adv. mar.

Baby Badly Burned.

Little David Bennett Knox, the handsome son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Bennett Knox, of Georgetown, formerly of Shawnee, is suffering from a badly burned foot. The little fellow, after being bathed Wednesday morning, put his bare foot down on the hearth before a blazing grate fire, with the result that the member was badly burned and blistered, causing intense suffering.—The Bourbon News.

Mrs. Knox will be remembered as Miss Sue Phelps, of this city.

Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my customers because I have confidence in it. I find that they are pleased with it and call for it when again in need of such a medicine," writes J. W. Sexton, Montevideo, Mo. For sale by all dealers. adv. mar.

Cornerstone Laid.

The cornerstone of the $2,000,000 Lincoln Memorial structure was laid in Washington a few days ago without ceremonies. Former Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, was in charge. In the cornerstone was laid a copper box containing a history of Lincoln signed by his living son, Robt. T. Lincoln, and other historical data. Lincoln's 106th birthday was observed in the House by an address from Representative Sherwood, of Ohio.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild cathartic. Doan's Regulets are recommended for this purpose. 25c a box at all drug stores. adv. mar.

For earache, toothache, pains, burns, scalds, sore throat, try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, a splendid remedy for emergencies.

SEVERAL THOUSAND LOAVES GIVEN POOR

L. T. Cooper, "Tanlac Man," Makes Good His Promise in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Mar. 2.—L. T. Cooper, the "Tanlac Man," demonstrated his hospitality in an unmistakable manner in Louisville, Sunday morning, when he personally directed the distribution of several thousand loaves of bread among the poor of this city.

This unique charitable act took place on the vacant lot on Walnut street, next to the Daily Herald.

A commodious tent had been stretched in the center of the lot and the "Bread Line" forming on the outside, filed, one by one, into the canvas enclosure and were given the bread.

Several affecting scenes were enacted when Mr. Cooper, seeing some poorly clad woman or child standing in the long line, in the cold, personally proceeded to fill their arms with bread. The expressions of gratitude were evidently appreciated by the donor, whose interest in the work increased with each of the touching incidents.

Col. H. Watson Lindsey, the Chief of Police, was present with a picked squad of his men to keep the crowd orderly. The splendid orderliness that characterized the whole affair, proved an excellent tribute to the high efficiency of the Louisville police department.

Mr. Cooper, in speaking of the successful inauguration of the "Bread Line," a few hours afterward, said: "If the bread I disposed of among the poor today is appreciated half as much as it has afforded me pleasure to give it, I will be satisfied. I hope to do even better next time."

"Tanlac," the famous medicine now being introduced by Mr. Cooper to correct catarrhal affections and stomach, liver and kidney complaints can now be bought in Richmond at H. L. Perry's drug store. The mayors of cities, county and circuit court judges, as well as many other prominent Kentuckians, are now testifying to the marvelous merits of Tanlac. adv.

STOCK AND FARM

Over 2,000 head of cattle were on the Mt. Sterling market last court day and prices were very satisfactory. One thousand-pound steers brought 6.12 to 7c, and many sales by the head brought as high as 8c. Fat cows brought 4.12c to 6.12c and oxen around 6c.

J. E. Robinson, of Lancaster, sold 21 head of 1,100-pound cattle to C. C. Seal, of Cincinnati, for 7.14c and same party bought of Hughes Bros. 23 head of 900-pound cattle at 6.34c.

E. C. McWhorter, of Paint Lick, sold a nice bunch of shaggy fed cattle to Simon Weil, of Lexington, for $7.35, to be delivered as soon as quarantine is lifted. These cattle will weigh about 1,300 pounds.

A tract of 20 acres of land belonging to Jas. H. Smith, located on the Paris and Riddles Mill pike, near Paris, was sold at public auction to David Butler for $20.50 per acre.

Rufus Hill, of Lee county, boasts of raising the finest corn in that or any other county. He claims to have 280 measured bushels of this particular kind of corn and says 55 ears make a bushel and each ear weighs from 1 to 1.2 lbs. The 280 bushels were raised on a fraction less than 4 acres of ground.

A bunch of saddle horses, 72 in number, sold in Lexington for $19,750, an average of $275 per head.

Matt S. Cohen, of Lexington, live stock agent for the L. & N., and one of the best known horsemen in the country, estimates that 8,000 horses and 6,000 mules have been bought by the allies in Kentucky. The average price paid for the horses was $125 a head and $118 for the mules. He says that a total of 80,000 horses and 60,000 mules have been bought in the United States by the allies.

C. K. Martin and S. H. Oatts bought of Jas. Oatts, of Wayne county, 29 steers at from $12.50 to $52.50; from J. E. Allen 19 750 pound steers at 7c; and sold 18 two-year-old steers to Dr. S. O. Eads at $51 per head and a 1,000-pound Jersey steer to J. D. Whitehouse for 6c a pound.

A WONDERFUL HEALING INFLUENCE IN KIDNEY TROUBLES

A year and a half ago I was taken with a severe attack of Kidney trouble that morphine had to be given me. Was attended by a doctor who pronounced it as Stone in the Bladder and prescribed Lithia Water. I took Lithia Water and Tablets for some time and received no relief from them. I stopped taking medicines for some time, later having some Swamp-Root in the house I decided to try it, and felt much relieved. While taking the second bottle commenced to pass gravel in urine until I had passed in all at least a half dozen or more and have not suffered the slightest since—and in all have taken one bottle and half and feel very grateful to Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,

H. W. SPINKS,

Camp Hill, Ala.

Personally appeared before me this 16th day of August, 1900, H. W. Spinks, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

A. B. LEE,

Ex. of Justice of Peace.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do for You

Send two cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Climax-Madisonian. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv. mar.

Largest line of Neckwear in the city at Stouffer's. 12-1f

M. A. Oldham & Company

respectfully invite you to attend their Spring Opening of Ladies' Suits, Coats and Costumes

Monday and Tuesday, March 8th and 9th

The world's best styles will show in

New Spring Suits, Coats and Costumes at this Opening. Also there will be on display all the New Dress Goods, Silks and Wash

Silks in favor this season for your inspection.

Don't fail to see them

M. A. Oldham & Company

Whose Tailor?

Here's good news for "tailored" men

If you want to save a very decided amount amount on ordinary tailors prices for clothes tailored to your individual order, have us to send your measure to

ED. V. PRICE & COMPANY,

Largest Tailors in the World

Good Made-to-Order Clothes

Their immense business permits them to deliver the cream of custom tailoring at a price you can readily afford.

Ask Us to "Show" You--Today!

E. V. ELDER

Exclusive Local Dealer for Ed. V. Price & Co.

The new Way ~ A Hoosier Cabinet makes a Model Kitchen

Why Do 700,000 Women Own Hoosier Cabinets?

When you know that 700,000 women use Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets three times every day, doesn't it suggest to you that you need this drudgery-saver in YOUR kitchen?

Figure it out to yourself this way: Would they have bought these cabinets without convincing themselves that they SAVE MILES OF STEPS and hours of time? Would so many have bought them at all if users hadn't told others and thus influenced their friends to buy them.

Since this means that more Hoosier Cabinets have been sold than all other 128 makes of cabinets combined, isn't it proof enough that the Hoosier is the best cabinet on the market?

When you see how the Hoosier groups four cupboards around a large metal table and places 400 articles at your fingers' ends so you can sit down and work—AND REST while working—you'll want one of these "White Beauties."

Come look one out today.

OLDHAM & LACKEY

The Only Place in Town Where Hoosiers Are Sold

Undertaking a Specialty

Day Telephone 76 Night Telephone 136 229

YOU'RE IN DEBT
TO YOURSELF IF YOU DON'T BUY AN OLIVER PLOW

No man really likes to be in debt—even to himself—and as we are not charging you anything for this advice—and it's good advice, and "straight" at that—why not take us up?

OLIVER PLOWS THAT ARE
"BUILT FOR SERVICE"
were made with your own special needs in view. The Oliver Plow had their factory experts down here for months finding out just what it is you require in the plow line.

NOW WE HAVE THE PLOWS.

D. B. Shackelford & Company
The Home of Good Goods and Satisfied Customers

THE RIGHT WAY

to get what you want is to come to the Blanton Lumber Co.

We have large assortments of

All Kinds of Lumber, Doors, Windows, Etc

For The Home or For The Barn

We take pleasure in answering questions and giving you the benefit of our experience in what to use and how to use it. We had rather not sell you than to misrepresent an article. An ORDER PLACED WITH US becomes a CONTRACT to be filled regardless of changes in the market. We believe RIGHT NOW is the TIME TO BUY

We Guarantee a Square Deal

TELEPHONE 425

The Ford Line

Runabout	-	$440
Touring Car	-	$490
Town Car	-	$690

and the two new Ford models

Coupelet	-	$750
Sedan	-	$975

with full equipment f. o. b. Detroit

THE MADISON GARAGE

INCORPORATED
IRVINE STREET PHONE 694

Seeds !!! Seeds

If you are looking for high grade Seeds, call at the corner grocery, Second and Irvine Streets, and there you will find the best.

Clover Timothy Orchard Grass
Ky. Bluegrass Sweet Clover
All Kinds of Garden Seeds

R. H. McKinney

Phones 16 and 223 Corner 2nd and Irvine Streets

BIG REDUCTIONS

ON ALL GOODS

Suits, Coats, Dresses, Shirt Waists, Skirts

go at 25 to 33 1-3 per cent off. Kimonos 79c; Gingham Dresses 69 and 79c—nothing any better for a present. All goods marked down in proportion. See our FUR SETS—CHEAP

B. E. BELUE & Co.

Corner Main and Collins Street

F. E. SPURLIN

Parrish & Sons Old Stand

Livery, Feed and Sale Stable

CORNER IRVINE AND THIRD STREETS

First-class attention given Boarding Horses, Hitching Horses and Good Horses and Buggies for Hire

REV. R. L. BRECK

An Eminent Presbyterian Divine Dies in California, At The Age of 88.

On Monday, the 15th of February, the Rev. R. L. Breck, D. D., died at his home in Palo Alto, Cal., in his 88th year. A telegram received here at noon on that day conveyed the tidings to his daughters, Mrs. Lucas Brodhead and Mrs. Thos. F. Carter.

Dr. Breck had many warm friends in this county (where he had made several long visits to his daughter, Mrs. Lucas Brodhead, at Okalee), who were much distressed to hear of his death. He made his last visit to Woodford about two years ago.

Robt. L. Breck was born in Richmond, Ky., on May 8, 1827. He was a son of Judge Daniel Breck, one of the most eminent of Kentucky jurists, a Judge of the Court of Appeals from 1843 to 1849 and a Congressman from Kentucky in the 31st Congress, and a grandson of Rev. Daniel Breck, a Congregational chaplain in the Revolutionary army, who was with Montgomery in the assault on Quebec. The mother of the subject of this sketch was Jane Todd, a daughter of Gen. Levi Todd.

Dr. Breck graduated from Centre College, Danville, and studied theology at Alleghany Seminary and at Princeton. At the latter place he was the classmate and intimate friend of Dr. Joseph Wilson, the father of the President. When Dr. Breck married Miss Martha Rodes, of Richmond, Ky., Dr. Wilson was his groomsmen.

The Versailles Presbyterian church was his first charge. He spent six years as pastor in Macon, Ga., and built a new church there. His last pastorate was in Berkeley, Cal.

The history of Dr. Breck's prime would be extremely interesting, for he played a prominent part in large affairs. "There were giants in the earth in those days" and Dr. Breck was one of them, both in mental and physical stature. In the mental turmoil through which the Presbyterian Church passed during the Civil war, Dr. Breck was a conspicuous figure and held his own as a debater and a parliamentarian with the most brilliant men in his denomination in Kentucky, who at that time were the equals of the ablest men in the nation. Dr. Breck was the moderator of the Synod of Kentucky at its famous session at Henderson in 1860, which was held with the questions which separated the Synod from the Presbyterian Church in America and which led the former into affiliation with the Southern General Assembly in 1869. During this harassing strife, Dr. Breck's voice was nobly raised in the hope of re-uniting the Northern and Southern Churches. "No" naturally combative and a most formidable antagonist, his Christianity and love of his church impelled him to do all in his power for peace. When disappointed in that, he went loyally with his own people in 1869. He always took high and noble ground. In ante-bellum days he was one of the Southerners who stood very strongly for the doctrine that the extent of property rights in slaves was simply a claim to their labor and nothing more.

The most interesting part of his life, to his children, came immediately after the war, when schools and churches were closed and the whole country demoralized. Of his own motion he opened the Presbyterian church in Richmond and gathered the remnants of the flock. For several years he might have been called the chaplain of Madison county, for he drove from end to end of it, visiting sickbeds, performing marriage ceremonies, burying the dead and writing wills and epitaphs for high and low, without respect to denominational lines. He also taught his children along with his own. Years later, when Dr. Breck was gathering funds for Central University, the people of Madison embraced the opportunity to show their appreciation of his interest in them. It was noted at the time that all denominations united in generous contributions.

Dr. Breck was one of the founders of Central University in 1874 and was its first Chancellor. It was said of him that "to his zeal, efficiency, energy and weight, more than to any other man, Central University is indebted for its establishment." In 1880, ill-health compelled him to remove to California, where he resided, with the exception of several years spent in Kentucky, until his death.

He is survived by one son, Daniel Breck, vice-president of the Selden-Breck Construction Co., of St. Louis, and four daughters—Mrs. Hugh A. Moran and Miss Belle Breck, of California, and Mrs. Lucas Brodhead and Mrs. Thos. F. Carter, of this county. Dr. Breck was buried at Richmond Feb. 20th.

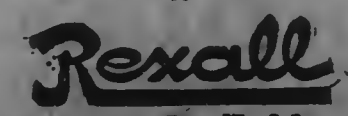

We have spoken of the great part Dr. Breck played as a faithful and devoted minister of the Presbyterian church in a time that imperatively demanded men, and men of exalted character, but there is more, much more, to be said of him. He was possessed of true and profound learning, was broadly informed along every line of human thought and endeavor, was a fine classical scholar, a fascinating companion, a man whose conversation was both a liberal education and a delight.

Outliving all of his contemporaries, he concluded a career once so active, in years of quietness and peace. He was the very last of a virile and wonderful generation—a generation cast in a mold which has, perhaps, been broken forever—A. A. B. In the Woodford Sun.

When the bowels become irregular you are uncomfortable and the longer Drive in and hitch your horse with Elmer Tate. One price and courteous treatment to all—Irvine street. 41f

WORKS BOTH WAYS.

Please hand us that dollar so we can "settle down and pay up." Then all of us will smile and smile.

Rexall
Dyspepsia Tablets
Will Relieve Your Indigestion

Henry L. Perry.

Costs Less Bakes Better
CALUMET
BAKING POWDER

ECONOMY—that's one thing you are looking for in these days of high living cost—Calumet insures a wonderful saving in your baking. But it does more. It insures wholesome food, tasty food—uniformly raised food. Calumet is made right—to sell right—to bake right. Ask one of the millions of women who use it—or ask your grocer.

RECEIVED HIGHEST AWARDS
World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago, Ill.
Paris Exposition, France, March, 1912.

You don't save money when you buy cheap or low-cost baking powder. Don't be misled. Buy Calumet. It's more economical—more wholesome—gives best results. Calumet is far superior to sour milk and soda.

MONEY TO LOAN

Applications received for loans for from $100 to $10,000, on improved and unimproved town property and farm lands. Interest 8 per cent. Interest payable annually or semi-annually. Terms: one to ten years. Applicants for loans will please give description, location and valuation of property as security for loan. State improvements and valuation of same.

We want County Representatives to receive applications for loans, appraise property, and serve as our exclusive representative. Attorney or real estate man preferred. Applicants for loans, and applicants for agencies positively required to furnish at least two character references and forward postage, five 2c stamps, for application blanks, full particulars and prompt reply. Write Southern Office, Southeastern Mortgage Loan Association, Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Georgia. 8-41.

Get Rid of Lingering Colds, Coughs and La Grippe.

Spring finds many afflicted with lingering, hacking coughs that weaken the system. Slush and wet cause more colds than zero weather. Croup, bronchitis, and pneumonia are prevalent. Every family should have a safe and reliable cough medicine ready for use. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound contains no harmful ingredients. It eases a cough, checks a cold and relieves inflamed and congested membranes. It clears the air passages and soothes inflammation. Sold everywhere. adv. mar.

Worth Knowing.

The more recent discussions as to the earth's age have placed the time as follows: Lord Kelvin, in 1862, 20,000,000 to 400,000,000 years, with probable 98,000,000; in 1897 Lord Kelvin revised his figures to 20,000,000 to 40,000,000 years; Clarence King and Carl Varus, in 1893, 24,000,000 years; De Lapport, in 1890, 90,000,000 to 90,000,000 years; Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, in 1893, maximum age, 70,000,000 years.

To The People of Richmond.

We wish to again call your attention to the fact that we are sole agents in this city for Meritol Pile Remedy. Our success with this remedy has far exceeded our most sanguine expectations. Therefore, we are pleased to recommend and guarantee Meritol Pile Remedy. Price $1.00. Madison Drug Company, Exclusive Agency.—Adv. mar.

Temper.

"It seems a small thing to lose one's temper. But really it means losing one's boots over the brute part of one's nature. Irritation and rage are unreasonable, brutal and ignominious. It is unwise, to say the least, to allow them to take the upper hand even for a moment."

Ten Years' Misery Ended

J. T. Chambers, merchant, Jonesboro, Ark., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills cured me of a ten year standing case of rheumatism. I suffered miserably. A friend told me of being cured; so I used them, and they cured me, too." Most middle aged men and women are apt to learn that Foley Kidney Pills afford a way to escape sleep disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, puffiness under the eyes, stiff and swollen joints, and other ills attributed to kidney troubles. Sold everywhere. adv. mar.

Personally. There is no more impressive and revealing moment with man or woman than when you stand in a room empty of their actual presence, but having, in every inch of it, the pervasive influences of the absent personality.—Gilbert Parker.

This—And Five Cents

Don't Miss this. Cut out this slip, enclose five cents to Foley & Co., Chicago Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley's Kidney Pills, for pain in sides and back, rheumatism, backache, kidney and bladder ailments; and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic, especially comforting to stout persons. Sold everywhere. adv. mar.

Daily Thought.

Never write on a subject without having first read yourself full of it; and never read on a subject till you have thought yourself hungry on it.—Richter.

For the Stomach and Liver

I. N. Stuart, West Webster, N. Y., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and liver off and on for the past five years, and it affords me pleasure to state that I have found them to be just as represented. The are mild in their action and the results have been satisfactory. I value them highly." For sale by all dealers. adv. mar.

A pain in the side or back that catches you when you straighten up, calls for a rubbing application of BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It relaxes the contracted muscles and permits ordinary bodily motion without suffering or inconvenience. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Madison Drug Co. adv. mar.

20 Years Ago

From Climax Files

LOCAL ITEMS.

Winchester is reported as being with-out a prisoner in the county jail. There must surely be something wrong with her officials.

Jailer Wagers, of Richmond, boasts that he has never let a prisoner escape. Tom Williams, a white man, who was serving a sentence on the rock-pile, gave him the slip last summer and since that time Wagers has been hunting him thru' the police officers of various towns, and last week he spotted him at Harrodsburg. The fugitive is now back in his old quarters.—Winchester Democrat.

In accordance with the call of President J. C. Chenualt, the Madison County Democratic Club met at the courthouse Friday night. Some enthusiastic talks by our leading Democrats were enjoyed. Judge Chenualt was re-elected as president and S. D. Parrish as secretary.

Quarterly court convened on Monday. The docket was unusually light. Judge Jas. A. Burnam presided with all the dignity and judicial composure of an old and experienced jurist. The manifold duties of his office will be well cared for by him.

PERSONAL.

Miss Roberts, of Philadelphia, is the guest of Mrs. H. B. Hanger.

Miss Lucy Crow is visiting her brother, Dr. McFerran Crow, at Versailles.

Miss Margaret Parrish will entertain the "Vanity Fair Club" at progressive euchre tomorrow evening.

Miss Lizzie Crow, of Richmond, arrived today and will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Welsh.—Danville Advocate.

Mrs. A. Wilkes Smith gave a reception yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 p. m. in honor of her guest, Miss Nannie Harrison, of Richmond, Va. Miss Harrison has been visiting Mrs. Burton, of Louisville, where she has received much social attention.

Meritol Rheumatism Powders.

The unusually large sale of this remedy is the best evidence we could offer you to prove its merits. It is made of effective ingredients, and is guaranteed to give permanent relief for rheumatism. We will gladly show you the formula and explain its merits to you. Price 50c Madison Drug Company, Local Agents.—Adv. mar.

Paid In Advance.

We intend to place our paper on a strictly "paid-in-advance" basis. In these hard times, we do not want to appear unreasonable and when we tell you the facts, we think you will find us right in our conclusion.

1st. Everything we buy must be paid for in cash or in 30 days, which is the same as cash.

2nd. It takes a large amount of money to run this business one month.

3rd. Everything in our line has advanced in price fully 50 per cent., so that at the price of $1.00 per year, we lose money on a subscription. Therefore, the loss of a subscription is more than a dollar thrown away.

4th. The law does not permit us to carry non-paying subscribers indefinitely.

5th. To mail out notices costs about 4 cents the letter. Not over three or four persons out of a hundred pay attention to our request for payment.

6th. Finally, in order to collect some of our best accounts, we must place them in the hands of a professional collector, which costs us about 25 cents on the dollar.

7th. The loss of subscriptions and the cost of collections make a subscription net us less than 50 cents, bringing on our shoulders a loss of over 50 cents for each subscriber.

8th. We are willing to accommodate the public, but we refuse emphatically to longer stand for this loss.

9th. Subscriptions to this paper must be paid in advance.

500 Suits and Overcoats must go at once at Stouffer's. 12-1f

A TEXAS WONDER.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney and bladder troubles, dissolves gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism, and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two months' treatment, and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Send for testimonials from this and other states. Dr. E. W. Hall, 2920 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo. Sold by druggists. Sep. 30-'14-1yr

500 SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Grand Opening

Just received 500 Suits and Overcoats sent by the manufacturer

To Be Sold At Once Regardless of Cost to make them on account of the open Fall business being short. We also have

One Car Load of Trunks, Bags and Suit Cases to be sold at once. We have the largest line of UNION SUITS and UNDERWEAR. Nice line of Hats, Caps, Umbrellas, and Neckwear

J. B. STOFFER

Oldest Clothing House in Richmond. 40 Years of Successful Business

222 West Main Street

Richmond, Kentucky

People Ask Us
What is the best laxative? Years of experience in selling all kinds leads us to always recommend Rexall Orderlies as the safest, surest and most satisfactory. Sold only by us, 10 cents.

Henry L. Perry.

For Sale.

I desire to sell privately my residence at 345 Big Hill avenue, Richmond, Ky. This house is practically new. Has sanitary bath-room, hot and cold water, good cellar, six rooms, two halls, two verandas, lot 100x285 feet, good cistern and all necessary outbuildings. This is one of the prettiest and most convenient residences in the city. Interested party may call and inspect the property at any time. Address communications to Sam R. Hurst, Lock Box 38, Winchester, Ky. 2-1f

To The Housewife

Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of the minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when it has a cold. If you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands high in the estimation of the people who use it. It is prompt and effective, pleasant and safe, to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all dealers. adv. mar.

Large line of Underwear and Union Suits at Stouffer's. 12-1f

Take HERBINE for indigestion. It relieves the pain in a few minutes and forces the fermented matter which causes the misery into the bowels where it is expected. Price 50c. Sold by Madison Drug Co. adv. mar.

RAT CORN

IT MUMIFIES THEM!

Harmless to human beings or live stock. Rid your place of these pests without smell or danger. Order a can to-day. Prices 50c and $1 per can, postage paid. 6. lb pail for $5.00. Rat Corn is guaranteed to do all we say.

W. BUSH NELSON, LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

J. C. TODD & SON

Contractors and Builders

Estimates furnished IRVINE ST. RICHMOND, KY.

T. O. BROADBUSH

DEALER IN

Fresh Meats, Corn and Dried Beef

FRESH AND SMOKED

TONGUES

All Refrigerator Meats

PHONE 39

RESIDENCE PHONE 239

134 2d St., Richmond, Ky.

LET

D. M. STEVENSON
Do your job work in Carpentering. Phone 343.

Dear Amy—The other day I told John he just had to let me fix up the parlor. I got tired of seeing the old things in it any longer. I hope your husband is not so thoughtless of home as mine has been. But now he is too glad that we have fixed up our parlor. He enjoys home lots more, and he don't want to stay down town "nights" anymore. John wants you and Bob to come and see us.

Always your friend, Lou.

P. S.—When you want furniture, carpets or stoves go right where I did, I am so pleased, I bought mine from and John likes the idea of making the small payments because he don't have to draw money out of the bank.

W. F. HIGGINS

WORKS OF ART

Round candy boxes with heads in color by Maud Stokes; decorated with ribbons, flowers and feathers. The most pleasing gift package we have seen—filled with

Whitman's CHOCOLATES

Sizes:—Two-pound, three-pound and five-pound. Sold only at the Whitman Agency.

STOCKTON & SON

McKinney and Deatherage

All Kinds of

Field and Garden Seeds.
Hay, Corn, Oats, Salt

Fancy Groceries and Queensware

35 TWO PHONES 42

West Main Street